About the Presenter Greg Mitchell has been a teacher for over thirty years and a parent for over a hundred years and he still suffers from enthusiasm. Greg is fascinated by the ways that students, parents and teachers can be empowered to make positive change though a mixture of quality information, compelling learning experiences and straight talking honesty. In this workshop he brings all of his experience, creativity, zest for life, wisdom and humour to create a memorable night for all.

Is it more important to fix a weakness or improve a strength?
The answer to this and many other essential questions when parenting and teaching adolescents can be found in this entertaining, engaging and essential presentation.

In two dynamic hours Greg Mitchell will lead you through the major resources available to help adolescents become positively successful adults. The presentation explores the forty elements of adolescent development in terms of the internal resources and external assets available for raising and educating children.

Internal resources include…
• How to create a positive support network between family, school, neighbourhood and positive adult role models.
• How to develop a child’s positive outlook through community involvement.
• How to set clear rules, boundaries and expectations.
• How to create constructive time management strategies.

External assets include…
• Creating a commitment to learning.
• Imparting the positive values of care, fairness, integrity, honesty, responsibility and restraint.
• Crafting adolescent social competence; from planning and decision making to resisting the negative peer group.
• Developing a positive identity, positive personal power, self-esteem, a sense of purpose and hope for the future.

Testimonials
My husband and I can’t thank Greg enough for giving us this night of ‘fearless reality’. He had an engaging, enthusiastic, motivated, helpful, inspiring, thought provoking, humorous, honest, sharing, giving, caring, open, frank, concise, bulls eye target into his presentation of parenting for those lucky enough to make it last night. And, this lasted for two hours!

College, Perth

Greg, thank you very much, your presentation at the Western Australian Council of State Schools Association conference was the most memorable speech of the whole event.
