Alan Huynh Year 12 Studio Arts

Alan Huynh's artwork, titled 'Sit Down and Have a Drink', was one of two final artworks completed as part of his Studio Arts folio. His inspiration came from wanting to represent as much of the person's character, as well as his likeness, in a portrait. This image represents a fellow Studio Arts student, and his love of whimsical storytelling. This image is the result of using traditional drawing materials of grey lead overlayed with ink. The process took Alan more than 20 hours, and is a testament to his fellow student's character.

Congratulations Alan on being shortlisted as a finalist for the Season of Excellence for Top Arts in 2018! We wish you all the best in the coming selection process, and in your future artistic endeavours.

FROM THE RECTOR

Dear members of the College community,

As our celebrations of the 60th Anniversary of the foundation of the College (1957-2017) draw to a close, I would like to express my gratitude to God in the first instance to the many Salesians who served this College over those years, and to the many people who make up our College community: Salesians, lay staff, students and their families, past students, supporters and friends.

It is worth recalling a number of people who have been involved in the establishment and development of this College since 1957. Archbishop Mannix was instrumental in recommending to the Moroney family that they donate their property to the Salesians back in 1947. Fr Ciantar opened the first small school on 'Moroney's Hill', where the Mannix Campus is located at present. The first group of Salesians travelled each day from the 'other hill', before the Salesians took up residence on the Bosco Campus in the early 1960s.

One of those Salesians, Br Cahill

Gleisner, died this year. Brother Cahill used to be in charge of the cleaning and maintenance of the first block of classrooms, as well as security officer at night! Fr Robert Curmi is now living in retirement in Hobart. Almost one hundred Salesians have been on staff at the College since its beginning. Many, of course, have gone to their reward in heaven, while several others continue their ministry of education in other schools, or are now retired.

It is difficult to calculate the number of students who have been through the College, not only boys! In the late 1970s, for a few years, the Matriculation class had a group of girls from Sacred Heart College Oakleigh. The pioneer students of 1957, about 70 of them, have now grown to over one thousand. So the total number of past students is certainly in the thousands.

There was a period of time when several senior students joined the Salesians. They have made a valuable contribution to the mission of the Church and of the Salesians in Australia and the Pacific. One of them, Timothy Costelloe, is now the Archbishop of Perth. Other past students have made a name for themselves in various fields of endeavour.

Nowadays the College is in the hands of lay administrators, with only a few Salesians who provide a presence, and attend to the spiritual-religious formation of staff and the needs of the students. The presence of the Salesians is a guarantee that the Salesian ethos of the College remains alive and strong. This was evident this year during Don Bosco's Oratory Week (previously Community Week). Oratory is a word that has been very dear to the Salesian tradition since the days of Don Bosco. The inauguration of a new statue of Don Bosco near the College Chapel is testimony to the 'Salesianity' of the College.

The physical facilities of the College will continue to improve and attract enrolments, with the Masterplan

"Oratory is a word that has been very dear to the Salesian tradition since the days of Don Bosco. The inauguration of a new statue of Don Bosco near the College Chapel is testimony to the 'Salesianity' of the College."

including a new Student Services, Learning Support and Administration Facility. The Mannix Campus will be enhanced with modern sporting facilities.

In conclusion, I would like to express my appreciation for the generous dedication of the Principal, Mr Robert Brennan, and of the staff, for their commitment to provide an excellent Salesian education to our students.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Salesian College Chadstone's sixtieth year has come to an end, and as we look back we can reflect on what has been an extraordinarily busy year. With a school review, Principal review, two lots of enrolments and the turnover of positions of Leadership in addition to all that would happen in a normal year, we can forgive ourselves for feeling a little fatigued. Having said that, we can look back fondly on what has been a wonderful year, a year in which we continued to live out the rich traditions of our founder Saint John Bosco. Our school continues to be a home for the thousand boys enrolled here. Our community continues to be a place of welcome, where all boys have a sense of belonging, a place of learning where boys can discover meaning in their lives, and, most of all, it has been a place of joy, as we celebrated the many achievements of our boys. The charisma of Don Bosco is alive and well here at Chadstone.

In this busy year one thing stood out in my mind, the College Review undertaken in partnership with the Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER). Using the National School Improvement Tool, the College received feedback on nine interrelated domains evident in effective schools. The review reflected on evidence collected through interviews, classroom visits, reading through college documentation and general observations and discussions. The report affirmed much of what we are currently doing, whilst providing some recommendations for further development. The review was a very positive experience for the College. In true Salesian style our commitment to Christian faith was at the heart of everything we did. We celebrated our deep religious roots in a number of ways, in liturgy, social justice, community service, prayer and through formal Religious Education classes. Through these activities our boys were exposed to our Catholic values and the teachings of the Church.

Providing our boys with opportunities to explore their spirituality is an integral aspect of the College. College Liturgies, including the Opening School Year Mass, Mary Help of Christians Mass, Valedictory Mass and the End of Year Mass were all joyous celebrations. Student participation and the reverence shown at these gatherings were outstanding. The Retreat Program, which runs across all year levels, provides boys with the opportunity to reflect on their spirituality in a supportive atmosphere. The boys enjoyed the opportunity to reflect on the people they are, the experiences and relationships they have formed as well as the contemplation of their future. During these reflections they pondered what part, if any, faith or God will play in their lives. The retreats often take many of our boys out of their comfort zones and into areas often neglected in their busy lives.

Faith in action was alive and well this year, with fundraising and community service very much part of the boys' lives at the College. Fundraising over the year was well supported by the boys, with over $31,000 raised for the Salesian Missions through initiatives such as 'Tinnies for Vinnies', Caritas and Christmas appeals. The Winter Sleep Out, in support of St Vincent de Paul, has become an annual event, with an even larger number of attendees this year, generating a real sense of purpose and mission amongst the boys.

The College once again enjoyed the great support of the Salesian Community. The Provincial Fr Greg Chambers, Vice Provincial Fr Bernie Graham, and College Rector Fr Frank Bertagnolli in his role as the chair of the College Advisory Council provided much needed support and leadership this year for the College. They were well backed by all the members of the Chadstone community, including Fr Cantamessa, Br Joe Ellul, and many others. The Salesians offer great support and spiritual guidance for myself and all others in the community.

With an increased student intake once again this year and a further increase for the 2018 school year, we will experience considerable growth in numbers in 2018, giving us a student population in excess of one thousand and fifty students.

The College is pleased with the academic achievements of the Class of 2017, with fifteen boys performing exceptionally well, achieving ATAR scores of 90 or above. The College Dux for 2017, with an ATAR score of 96.1 was Kevin Tat. Other pleasing aspects of the VCE results include: 335 of the boys obtaining an ATAR score over 80 and half the cohort of Year 12 boys gaining an ATAR of 70 or over. The average ATAR score increased to 66, 3 points above the state average for boys. Overall we witnessed a slight fall in our results when compared to the previous ten years, but generally it has been another good year.

The College co-curricular program continues to thrive, with boys participating fully in sporting life, competing enthusiastically in a myriad of ACC sports. Whilst we celebrated ultimate success in sports, including Football and Badminton, all boys represented their College and themselves with pride, giving themselves and the College community a real sense of joy.

The intra school competition continues to have a life of its own, with the House Shields and House Cup bringing out the competitive spirit of all the boys. The House Cup result was a close call, with Moroney House winning after taking out two of the individual shields, Cultural and Citizenship. Collinson finished second, also winning two of the individual shields, Sport and Academic, but had a slightly lower overall score. The College Carnivals were even more competitive. However, a great deal of fun was still had by all the boys. Music's place at the College is now well established, providing many boys with the chance to have some fun while showcasing their talents. One fine example was Year 11 student, Billy Drakopoulos, who wrote the musical score for the College Production this year, 'Mother Courage and her Children', an outstanding example of talent and dedication. The College bands took every opportunity to perform, with one group of musicians travelling to Hawaii to participate in the Pacific Basic Music Festival in Honolulu. The bands also provided lots of entertainment at school as well as in the wider community, playing at assemblies, Spring and Autumn Concerts, Cabaret Night and during Oratory Week. Cabaret Night this year was the best one I have experienced, and it is clear that this event has developed into a significant community occasion. The Autumn and Spring Concerts were also highlights for the year. The Music Program continues to provide a very important vehicle for cultural growth for all in the community.

The College Debating and Public Speaking teams once again competed with flair, and continue to develop into a strong part of our culture. A great number of boys participated in House Competitions as well as Inter School Competitions, with some very pleasing results. We look forward to further growth and development in coming years.

Student Leadership at the College continued to grow under the guidance of Mrs Malwina Dwyer and Mr Anthony Barnes. College Captain, Stefano Mascaro, and Vice Captains, Peter Pamouktsis and Lachlan Magee, along with the rest of the Student Congress, demonstrated great leadership skills, presenting many new initiatives to the College. They were able to initiate a number of fundraising activities, raising much needed funds for designated charities, whilst providing a great deal of fun for the community. There were a number of highlights, including raising a record amount of money for the Salesian Missions, as well as organising a number of events that involved a large number of boys. The House Captains also did a wonderful job when it came to their turn at sporting carnivals and house events. This was never more evident than at the final assemblies for all houses, where the winners of each shield as well as the House Cup were presented.

An integral aspect of the success of Salesian College Chadstone is our staff, to whom I am always very grateful. I congratulate and thank them all for the tireless effort, the extra hours they put in and their general willingness to do anything for the success of the boys. Their dedication, work ethic and the care they show for the boys is outstanding. I would also like to thank the Parents and Friends Association, who did a wonderful job bringing the parent community together, ensuring that they remain an important part of the College community. The past few years have seen this group transition from a fundraising group to a very important conduit between families and the College, organising special social events to ensure that our parents are engaged with the College. Events such as the Mothers' and Fathers' Day Breakfasts, Year 7 Orientation and social evenings are vital in making our families, in particular our new families, welcome. I would like to thank Tracy Stone and her Parents' Association team for all the wonderful work they do in supporting the College.

Very late in the school year, the College received great news that we had been successful in obtaining a capital grant from the State Government of $1,000,000 for the construction of a new Administration Building, incorporating a Student Services and a Learning Support Centre. Construction will commence in Term Two of 2018.

So it is with a great sense of joy that I am able to reflect on the 2017 school year, and all that has taken place here at Salesian College Chadstone. May God bless.

2017 DUX SPEECH

Good afternoon Mr Brennan, Fr Bertagnolli, teachers, parents and students of Salesian College.

I feel rather fortunate to be standing here as the Dux of the 2017 cohort, especially when I compare my ATAR to the great ATARs achieved by previous Duxes. However, it is still a great honour to be on that honour roll forever. Although my speech today might not be the most articulate or spoken with confidence (I did get 64% on my Oral after all) I hope you are able to take something out of this and apply it throughout your journey through high school, whether that be here at Salesian or elsewhere.

Year 12 is said to be one of the most challenging years in your life as a teenager, and this was true in many aspects. I am sure that those who started Year 12 after completing one or two Unit 3/4 subjects in Year 11 still felt burnt out, and were unable to start Year 12 in a way in which they hoped. Alongside that, the numerous hurdles which arose throughout the journey that is Year 12, whether they were mental, physical or emotional challenges, made Year 12 a tough year, especially with the expectations of our parents, teachers and fellow students. These challenges only made finishing our final exams all the more satisfying. So, congratulations to those who Duxed a subject, achieved a 90+ ATAR, completed Year 12 to the best of their ability, or completed their first Unit 3/4 subject as a Year 11 student.

Throughout my time here at Salesian, there have been many teachers who have helped me throughout my studies and assisted me to achieve the ATAR that I achieved. Miss Poulouse encouraged me to start aiming higher in Year 8, indicating that my 80% test result wasn't enough, and instead I should be getting a score in the 90s. Mr Wang, thank you for coaching our successful Badminton team, and for a fun Unit 1/2 Methods class. Mr Bermingham, thank you for your encouragement in our Business Management and Economics classes. Mr Shaw, your Unit 3/4 Further Maths class was definitely very interesting. Miss Apostolopoulos, I appreciated your stress free Oratory class in Year 11, while I was undertaking two Unit 3/4 subjects. Mr Dexter, you dealt with one of the most frustrating Unit 3/4 Methods classes imaginable, and Mr McDonald, you gave hope to our Specialist Maths class.

I thank all our teachers. However, a special thank you must go to Mr Beurs, who gave me the willpower to push on throughout the year, even if the circumstances were not ideal. Mr Beurs, you helped me realise that we will not always get along with everyone that we meet. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Anthony Johnston, who is no longer with us today. Although I was only in his class for a Semester in 2016, his dedication to teaching, willingness to help and his cheerful aura always made his class something to look forward to during the week. He made such an impact in such a short period of time, and only motivated me further to achieve the best I could.

Alongside our teachers, I must thank my classmates and friends within and outside Salesian College who have experienced this journey with me. Whether our friendship was expressed in good-natured teasing, or in the overwhelming support that helped me get through the year, I appreciate all of you. Thank you for being there when I needed it the most, even when sometimes you were distractions during the most inconvenient of times.

The most important thank you must go to my parents. First of all, I'm sorry that this Assembly stopped you from celebrating Chinese New Year with your own parents. I know they are growing old, and Grandma's time is running short, and spending extra time with them would have been wonderful. Although my parents don't know much about VCE, they worked every day to provide me with an education, which they believe will provide me with a pathway to a successful career. From my early days they had always stressed the importance of independent learning, as they were unable to help with any of my schoolwork. This developed me into the student that I am today. I am forever grateful to my parents for their hard work and support in providing me with an education and extra tutoring, which enabled me to achieve the best results possible. Thank you for everything. Words cannot express how much I appreciate the hard work you do to provide me with a comfortable life.

To the current Year 12s who are concerned about their ATARs, as I stated previously, Year 12 is a tough year. You start the year, and are placed into classes that you may dislike. Whether it's because you picked the subject just to meet prerequisites, or because you're left alone with none of your close friends, all these challenges begin immediately in Year 12. The challenges of Year 12 should motivate you to achieve the best results you can, which will all contribute to your final ATAR score. My advice is to be ready to adapt to the ups and downs of Year 12. Although we would all like Year 12 to be smooth sailing, there will undoubtedly be personal hurdles to overcome. Despite the mental, social or academic challenges, it is important to stay resilient and keep reminding yourself of who, or what, you're undertaking this year for, whether that reason is for yourself, your family, or for any other significant individual in your life.

"I am forever grateful to my parents for their hard work and support in providing me with an education...Words cannot express how much I appreciate the hard work you do to provide me with a comfortable life."

To the rest of the student body, I strongly believe that to achieve what you want, you must have the right mindset built up prior to Year 12. Begin to work increasingly harder each year, until you know what you need to do to achieve grades that you want, while also maintaining a healthy and balanced lifestyle. Although this may seem impossible, and you may think it's another generic piece of advice, the ideal balance will vary for each individual, whether that be balancing a job, your social life, sports and your academic results, or just two of these aspects. Achieving the right balance is crucial to enjoying your time throughout high school.

Again, it is an honour to stand here as the Dux of 2017. I wish everyone a successful 2018, and prosperous future ahead. Thank you.

SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

Scholarship Program

Since the inception of our Scholarship Program in 2001, many recipients have gone on to achieve amazing ATAR results and to perform exceptionally well in their university courses, and have entered the workforce as fine examples of Salesian men.

The outstanding results achieved by Salesian College students must be attributed to the dedication and commitment of teaching staff and the pastoral care and personal development programs offered at the College, fostering an environment of support and care for each individual student. To enable boys to be empowered to take control of their learning, a vast array of elective choices is available to them in the formative years, when they are beginning to understand who they are and where they are headed. As is truly characteristic of a Salesian Education, we encourage boys to set personal goals that will allow them to achieve at the highest level, and guide them to adopt a rigorous study ethic and dedicate themselves to do their best.

Boys are competitive by nature and, in essence, the attainment of a scholarship at each year level is a prize for winning, for being one of the best, for achieving at the highest level. The ultimate competition is to maintain and build on the intensity from the early year levels into the senior years.

The Program has been devised to encourage our students at each year level to achieve their personal best. The College aims to recognise, reinforce and reward high achieving students, from the excited, nervous Grade 6 boys entering the College, to the fine, motivated Year 11 students taking scholarships into their final year of schooling. Salesian College Chadstone is committed to awarding scholarships on an annual basis to recognise personal excellence in curricular and co-curricular activities. The awarding of the scholarships is a highlight of the College Dux Assembly.

Salesian College congratulates the fine young men who have been awarded the 2017 scholarships and wishes them well in their future efforts.

SALESIAN AWARDS

The Salesian Awards were introduced to the College by our Principal, Robert Brennan, in 2012. This means that the Class of 2017 Year 12 students are the first group of students to have known the awards for their entire time here. The awards acknowledge individual student contributions to College life in the four areas of Academic, Cultural, Sport and Citizenship. They were introduced to encourage boys to get the most out of their time here by embracing the many opportunities that the school provides.

Boys accumulate points in these four areas, and when they reach the requisite number they are awarded with the Bronze, Silver or Gold Salesian Award. To achieve a Gold Award boys need to make a special effort over the course of their schooling in order for them to accumulate 1200 points in total, with a minimum of 750 points in the Academic area and 300 in Citizenship.

Academic points are largely based on a boy's average overall mark in a given semester. Citizenship points come from doing the 'ordinary things extraordinarily well'. For example, a teacher may award a Citizenship merit after noticing a boy helping others in his class. Points are also awarded for participation in school activities such as Don Bosco's Oratory Week. Cultural points can be gained by participating in activities such as Debating, the College Production or Chess. Sport points can be gained by becoming involved in House Sport Carnivals.

The list of boys who have achieved their Gold Awards this year is telling. It includes the current School Captain and future School Captain. It includes other boys who have served the school in other Student Leadership roles. It includes boys whose names would be known by their peers at the College, as they have made the most of their time here and the opportunities that were presented to them. These boys are the perfect example of what the Salesian Awards were set up to acknowledge, and they act as role models for other students.

We would like to congratulate these boys on their achievements. We would also like to thank them, as they have given to the community through their consistent hard work and the example they have set. As they leave the school, whether it be this year or next, they will have left our community a richer place for having been here.

OMNIA AWARDS

As part of our Don Bosco's Oratory Week celebrations, we acknowledge the great generosity of some of our students. These awards are known as the Omnia Awards, and have been a long standing tradition of our College Community. It is both a privilege and an honour to be nominated for such an award.

The Omnia Awards are presented annually to students who have made an outstanding contribution to community service, within or on behalf of Salesian College. These students have demonstrated a community mindedness and action which is selfless, voluntary and regular, without the expectation of reward or recognition.

This year we had six very worthy award recipients.

Sheneth Fernando is someone who demonstrates a true willingness to help others, without any reward. He is a person who immediately jumps in to assist when he sees a person in need. Many times, he has been observed carrying bags for boys on crutches who are having difficulty moving around the school. He takes it upon himself to set up rooms for teachers for activities and SACs, even when he is not a member of that class. When Sheneth was told he would be receiving merits for his good deeds, he refused to accept them, believing that he did not need recognition. One of his greatest achievements of service has been the support he gives to others. He has assisted every Friday with the Connections Group from Year 7 through to Year 11. Although Sheneth faces his own challenges, he finds it within himself to put others first.

Matias Gonzalez Jara was our second Omnia Award Recipient for 2017. He is a young man who is known for getting the job done. He is always one to offer help, and accepts any task asked of him. He has gone well above and beyond his duty for his House and for the College at events for our school and wider community. He often uses his own time to do things for the College, and doesn't complain about his responsibilities, nor seek reward. Matias' assistance in the Music and Performing Arts departments has been significant over many years. To his peers he is known as being caring and friendly, and always ensures there is humour in the halls.

Patrick Lov is known to his peers simply as an incredible person. Not only is he an example of hard work and leadership, he is always one to motivate others and ensure that they are not left behind. Despite being one of the busiest leaders at the College, he has always made time for those who need it. He is someone who is 100% reliable in every task he takes on. His humble attitude is exemplified in the way in which he takes the initiative to ask questions, so that he can better himself as a person and as a Student Leader. The work that he has been involved in to better the lives of others is simply amazing. For this, he is thoroughly deserving of an Omnia Award.

Peter Pamouktsis was our fourth Omnia Award recipient, and can be only described as an amazing young man. He has been an outstanding contributor to the 2017 Year 12 cohort, taking the lead in many student led initiatives. He has gone above and beyond all we have asked of him, and is always available to help with a smile, with events such as the Year 12 Formal. His insistence that his Year 12 peers are happy and supported is remarkable. Although he has a Student Leadership role, he does a lot of behind the scenes Administration work to ensure that events run smoothly. Peter is an excellent role model for younger students, and truly wants to make Salesian College a better place.

Kieran Roach was our fifth Omnia Award recipient. He is a very unassuming young man, but does a lot of work behind the scenes that goes unnoticed. As a leader, he has been an invaluable support in helping to motivate other students. Despite his own health struggles, he continued to attend school as much as possible, and was relentless in representing the College in a positive manner. He is a very humble young man, and does not like receiving accolades, yet is happy to do anything asked of him (and more). He is a very loyal and enthusiastic Salesian ambassador, and an invaluable member of Moroney House. Our congratulations and thanks to Kieran.

Tibin Thampy is a young man who has shown consistent dedication to the College and wider community. He is always available and willing to assist others wherever he can. He is selfless and very aware of his need to promote social justice in the lives of others. His nature of prioritising others before himself is somewhat unique in today's society, and is certainly worth recognising. His contributions to the College and to the community have ranged from Student Leadership, public speaking, fundraising and awareness building in our community. He is caring and understanding, and strives to ensure that his peers are well and happy. Tibin is a true gentleman of service.

College Captain and Vice-Captains

'Omnia Omnibus'. Our College motto. 'Be all things to all men'. Although all Salesian students are encouraged to stand by this proclamation, it is our student leaders who best fulfil its message. A common misconception about leadership is that it is solely an opportunity for authority and status. It is a credit to our current College Captain, Stefano Mascaro, and our Vice-Captains, Peter Pamouktsis and Lachlan Magee, that they carry out their vast responsibilities without protest, unintentionally glamorising their positions by their lack of complaint. The multitude of events attended, and the immense duties carried out are not always apparent to their peers, the student body, teachers or even to their families. This is not because the responsibilities are easy or undertaken carelessly; it is because these fine young men carry them out with grace and a smile. In writing this piece, my intention is not to just boast about our three current captains, although they deserve every compliment.

This piece also reflects on the characteristics of our past College

Captains in 2016, 2015 and so on. Let me explain this. To be a leader means to lead, which is mostly in the public eye, but the hard work that leadership demands is not so visible. It is the speeches written at home, the sweaty hands when meeting with Mr Brennan, maintaining study scores (despite the additional responsibilities), speaking well of our College to strangers at external events, and having the confidence to stand against bullying or behaviours that do not uphold our Salesian values. Leadership qualities are not always rewarded. They are not always seen, but it is imperative that they exist regardless. These qualities are also embodied by many of our 2017 Student Leaders from Year 7 to Year 12. In every year at Salesian College there is an opportunity for over 100 students to undertake leadership positions. This is unique, as many schools do not permit such a large number of leadership positions across all year levels.

So far this year, our leaders have participated in various events such as Student Congress, House Swimming and Athletics, the Associated Catholic Colleges (ACC) Dinner, Hall of Fame Dinner, Shrove Tuesday Breakfast, Mothers' Day Mass, Fathers' Day Mass, Legacy Breakfast, Don Bosco's Oratory Week and Salesian Festival Day, the College Production with Sacred Heart Girls' College, the Mary McKertich Speaking Competition, the Sports Awards Night and many, many more. It is not possible to succinctly express the gratitude that the College owes to our 2017 Student Leaders, except to say that we hope you feel you have grown in your leadership journey this year, as we sincerely believe you have. We, the Student Leadership Coordinators, are extremely appreciative of all your enthusiasm and diligent hard work throughout this year, and wish you luck in your future endeavours.

As we look towards 2018, we anticipate meeting our new student leaders and working with them in an altruistic manner to better our Salesian community.

FROM THE COLLEGE CAPTAIN

At the beginning of our journey as Salesian men, the day when we would finally graduate seemed like a distant dream. Yet here we are now, preparing for our final exams that will conclude 6 years of schooling. However, the term 'school' doesn't even begin to do Salesian College Chadstone justice. After all, how can you possibly begin to attribute such an extensive journey, accounting for invaluable experiences, friendships, mentors and memories for life, to merely a school? The answer is, you can't. This is perhaps why St Don Bosco wanted his boys to call it a home, and in my time at Salesian I have indeed been offered a home. It has been a safe haven and a platform where I have immersed myself in a community centred around a culture that fortifies the notion of "all things to all people".

Throughout my years at Salesian I have travelled many roads which have led to my current destination. These roads were the leadership opportunities I took in my stride, which allowed me to be chosen as College Captain of 2017. I humbly accepted this position, albeit with great uncertainty of what awaited in 2017. However, with the guidance and support of our Student Leadership Coordinators, Mrs Dwyer and Mr Barnes, who stood arm in arm with the Student Leadership group, we embarked on a year in which we represented the voice of our Salesian brothers. This was truly an honour, and something that I will hold dear for the rest of my life.

Leadership at Salesian College, and its importance in enhancing the lives of all students, can be attributed to the legacy passed down from previous cohorts. I count my blessings every day to have worked alongside such a fine group of leaders this year who contributed to the College in such a positive way. To my fellow captains, Peter Pamouktsis and Lachlan Magee, we've experienced countless board meetings, school functions, excursions, speeches and proposals together. I cannot possibly thank you enough for all your support, dedication, hard work and laughter.

To the Class of 2018, I implore you to make the most of every opportunity given to you. Just as I was advised before I entered Year 12, you will find that your time at Salesian will pass quickly. Every great story needs a fitting ending, so it is important that every chapter within your story is filled with friendships to cherish, lessons to learn, and memories to last forever.

This journey, that is now coming to an end, has not been one we have undertaken alone. A special thanks must be given to our families. For the unconditional love and support provided to us all, we are truly grateful. On a more personal level, in particular to my family and my parents, you have not only been there in triumph for the memorable moments, but also in support through the hardships. The sacrifice, belief and love with which you have never failed to assure me will forever leave me indebted to you. The end of my journey here at Salesian also marks the end of a rather special era for my family. For the past 11 years, there has been a member of my family attending Salesian College, with both my brothers graduating as notable members of their respective cohorts and House Captains of the mighty Moroney House. I would like to extend our sincere thanks to the entire Salesian community for everything it has done for our family, and say on behalf of us all, a very warm goodbye.

To the teachers and all other staff members of Salesian who have contributed to our lives, we have been truly blessed with the dedication and unequivocal encouragement to fulfil our potential. From our humble beginnings as wide-eyed Year 7s with oversized blazers and an eagerness to learn, we have been provided with the guidance to unlock the ability to maximise our scholastic capabilities beyond any other means.

Without question, there is one very special member of staff who, on behalf of the Year 12 cohort, I would like to thank. To Mr Beurs, our Year Level Coordinator of almost two years, you have truly exceeded the demands of your role. To all of us, you are a highly respected mentor, teacher and friend. Your ability to maintain your witty sense of humour and share a laugh with the boys during one of our most important schooling years has helped us considerably. We are forever grateful for having shared our journey with a man such as yourself. Thank you.

Lastly, to my boys. To my brothers of the graduating class of SCC17. There are quite simply no words to describe the emotions that fill me when I stop and reflect on all that we've shared together. From the camaraderie shown during the times of heartbreak for our fellow brothers, to the moments of pure joy and happiness that will be held dear to us, I will forever be truly grateful to each and every one of you for having made my 6 years at Salesian the most memorable years of my life. In a sense of belonging that can only be described as a brotherhood, I am so truly proud of what you have all achieved. I sincerely wish you all the best for all your future endeavours. To have been able to walk alongside you all throughout this journey as brothers the honour is, and forever will be, mine.

Stefano Mascaro
College Captain

"From the camaraderie shown during the times of heartbreak for our fellow brothers, to the moments of pure joy and happiness that will be held dear to us, I will forever be truly grateful to each and every one of you for having made my 6 years at Salesian the most memorable years of my life."

STAFF FAREWELLS

PETER MOORE

In 2017, Salesian College Chadstone farewelled staff member of 21 years, Peter Moore, on his retirement.

Peter was Head of the Technology Department for over nine years. His leadership style was characterised by his witty remarks and great sense of humour, and he was widely respected by both students and staff.

Peter fought his battle with cancer in 2016, and was thankfully given the 'all clear' recently. His determination not to allow the disease to get the better of him was admired by all, and he took great strength from the prayers and well wishes he received from staff and students at the College.

Outside of the classroom, Peter spends most of his spare time at his second home, Mount Beauty. Peter is a keen trout fisherman, and delights in telling staff members about his adventures catching rainbow and brown trout.

His friend and colleague, Robert Marley, reflects, "Peter is the best teacher I've worked with, and I've seen quite a few over my 20 years in teaching. This man has left a mark on Salesian College that will be hard to forget."

Thank you, Peter, for all you have contributed to Salesian College Chadstone. We wish you every happiness in your well-earned retirement.

ROZANNE MISSO

In 2017 we farewelled long-time staff member, Rozanne Misso. Rozanne taught at Salesian College Chadstone for over 33 years, in subjects including Accounting, Religious Education and Humanities. She also mentored students in Oratory, and worked in the College library.

Rozanne's students of 7G wrote, "Miss Misso is kind, caring and helpful. She is very selfless in her work and always helps us in our assignments. She made this year very enjoyable. Thank you, Miss Misso, for staying behind at lunch time so we could finish our work."

A past student of Rozanne's reflected, "Miss Misso was amazingly patient with all of her students, and particularly with me, when I struggled with some accounting concepts. I attribute my career in finance today to her passion for the subject. She was empathetic and took all of our personal situations into account, and worked with us accordingly."

Rozanne, you have had an immeasurable impact on the community of Salesian College Chadstone. We hope you enjoy your retirement.

JAN MOORE

We also farewelled Jan Moore, our Library Assistant for over 15 years.

Jan was known for her humble, quiet, approachable nature. Her colleague and friend, Ian McKail reflects, "Jan is happiest when she is doing someone a favour. She has the rare skill of making everyone feel good about themselves, because she is unvaryingly immediate and warm with her assistance. It's true we have people on staff who are disliked by no one, and Jan is one of those people. Mother Teresa's belief that 'the world knows nothing of its greatest people' is embodied in Jan Moore."

Jan, thank you for the quiet and dignified way you went about making the College a better place.

BUSINESS REPORT

"At the end of 2017, we received the much welcomed news that we were to receive a grant of one million dollars from the Victorian Government to contribute to a new Student Services, Administration and Reception building."

The Administration Department of a school has a very broad function. Some years can be dominated by facility developments, while others, such as 2017, have been focussed on other projects, such as Master Planning, promotions, compliance and finance.

At the end of 2017, we received the much welcomed news that we were to receive a grant of one million dollars from the Victorian Government to contribute to a new Student Services, Administration and Reception building. The design and function needed to pass the criteria set by the Victorian Government and the Catholic Capital Grants Department. With this upgrade to commence in early 2018, our students, staff and parents can look forward to utilising an up-to-date facility that provides state of the art equipment, learning spaces, meeting rooms, reception areas and an upgraded entrance to the College. It is the largest single building project in the College's history, and one which will transform our operations and reputation into the future.

In contrast to this, much of the year was spent under a cloud of uncertainty as details of the new Federal Government Funding Model were released. In short, it meant that our College would receive less funding per student than in previous years. Budgets were adjusted and plans were made to absorb this funding reduction as much as possible. I believe the value of a good finance team is shown when things get tough, and I thank the finance team for their great efforts in obtaining a fantastic result for the College in difficult circumstances.

Some highlights in the marketing of our school have been the launch of our promotional video, and the growing success of the Hall of Fame and reunions. With further improvements in the pipeline for the website, community engagement and publications, Marketing is a business function that is thriving and becoming a strength of the College.

The demand for compliance is growing more and more each year in schools, and, while we are keeping up with our increasing requirements, we also had our five-year review from the VRQA (Victorian Registration and Qualifications Authority). It was reassuring to see that without specific preparation for the Audit, we were shown to have up to date practice in all the compliance areas such as Child Protection, OHS, Building Safety, Financial Security and Governance.

We farewelled our IT Manager, Mr KJ Maan, whose personality, work ethic and effectiveness will be missed. Terry Cristiano has taken on the challenge as the new IT Manager and has proved himself a worthy replacement, with a large building project to come in 2018 as a further test. Good luck Terry! We also welcome Lachlan Grant as our newest addition to the Maintenance Team, keeping our gardens and grounds looking great.

We had little other movement in staffing for the year, which meant that our various Administration teams consolidated their working relationships and improved teamwork, not only within their teams, but with the College staff as a whole. It has provided a great springboard to the challenges of 2018, a year which I look forward to with positivity and excitement.

Mr Jack Palumbo
Business Manager

FACILITIES

We started the year with the completion of our two new Food Technology classrooms. Each classroom incorporates three work stations that can accommodate up to eight students each. The rooms also have a demonstration bench, as well as a separate preparation area with shelving and a work bench. The rooms also include new seating, storage cabinets, benches, cameras and TVs to project lessons to the students.

During the break we were also able to replace the existing classroom tables in the Mannix Science room with new bespoke, mobile practical benches and stools. This now provides a more versatile learning space for the Year Nine students.

The Canteen area also received a minor upgrade. The old vinyl flooring in the main work areas was replaced with new vinyl. Minor modifications were carried out to provide a separate self-serve area for the senior students. This involved creating an alcove in one of the walls abutting the canteen. The alcove was fitted out with shelving to house microwaves and sandwich presses. A keyed automatic roller shutter was also installed so that the area can be locked up when not in use.

Towards the middle of the year two other projects were completed. In the RUA Resource Centre two separate study areas were created, following a suggestion made by 2016 Academic Ambassador, Kishon Pawar. One is a general class and study area. The second area is a dedicated Year 12 study area which includes new study hutches and seating. It was important that the new build incorporated the existing open plan aesthetics and natural lighting of the areas. This was achieved with 3/4 glass panels in the new dividing walls, which allow natural light to filter through, yet still provide private spaces for students to study.

The external stairway canopy and entrance to the De Sales building was replaced with a new canopy and entrance doors. External lighting to the area was also replaced with LED lighting.

The gravel pedestrian pathway at Mannix Campus that leads to the Monash Freeway footbridge received a much needed upgrade. A new bitumen pathway was constructed and the existing drainage upgraded. This now provides a safe and even access way for all users.

The Maintenance team also received a new John Deere trim and surrounds mower for the Bosco Oval. This was purchased just in time for the spring/summer grass growing season, and it is already a hit with the Gardens and Ground Staff.

This has been a very busy year for the Maintenance team. They have worked tirelessly to ensure that the set-up for our numerous College events is completed without a hitch, while still maintaining their general duties behind the scenes as well. Well done, team, on another busy and eventful year.

Mr Dennis Veneruzzo
Facilities & Resources Manager

DEVELOPMENT AND MARKETING

"As the year progressed, so too did considerable event growth... our Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day events held the largest attendance in the school's history, with a 47% and 46% increase respectively from last year's attendance numbers."

The Community theme has been a core focus for the Marketing and Development team in our 60th year. The beginning of the academic year saw the commissioning of our official College Video, involving a cross section of students, staff and parents, who outlined who we are as a community and what we stand for as an organisation. The official unveiling of the video and the refurbishment of our Alumni history area took place at the March 2017 Hall of Fame Dinner, when we formally acknowledged the achievements of a select few in our community who have reached considerable success: 2017 Young Achiever Damian Menz (Business), and Hall of Fame inductees, Bao Hoang (Entrepreneur), Commodore Alan Thompson (Legal Profession) and Brian Ford (Education and Community). Hosted by 1957 past student, now broadcaster, Tony Pilkington, the evening was abuzz with celebration and entertaining storytelling from the old days.

As the year progressed, so too did considerable event growth. To name just two, our Mothers' Day and Fathers' Day events held the largest attendance in the school's history, with a 47% and 46% increase respectively from last year's attendance numbers.

As it was a double enrolment year, the demand to inform potential families about how to navigate the secondary school experience increased. We ran a two-month long brand awareness campaign at Chadstone Shopping Centre, driving tours and enrolments before enrolment cut-off dates.

Primary School Programs and relationships were further developed throughout the year, introducing new feeder primary school students to the secondary school environment. Feedback was outstanding, with a record number of schools in the area taking up the opportunity to take part in the Program.

On Thursday 14 September, we took the time to shine a light on the legacy that stands among our current families. We reflected on the reasons why our families return, the values that resonate through generations and why it feels like home. Past pupils and families had the privilege of listening to Stan Alves host our inaugural Past Pupil and Son Legacy Breakfast, where he highlighted the value of family tradition and the importance of relationships.

A genuine thankyou to the staff who throughout the year supported the successful functioning of the Marketing and Development Department. To Mrs Michelle Collins and Miss Leah Karam in Administration, thank you, and to Development Officer – Publications and Communications, Miss Nikita Rodrigues, you have been a delight to work with each day. A special thankyou to Registrar and PA to the Principal, Mrs Mary Menz, whose tireless work in the Enrolments area makes every family who enters through our doors a genuine priority.

To our departing dedicated Tour Guides, you each displayed a consistent and loyal approach to supporting events and programs during the academic year. You have been a wonderful asset to the College, not only in 2017, but across the years since you joined the Tour Guide Program as young year 8 students. We farewell our competent and confident Year 10 Tour Guides, Ashvin Adihetty, Cooper McNamara, Sam Vanderhorst and Harrison Wilkins Byrd. We wish them the best of luck in their Senior studies.

To Principal, Mr Rob Brennan, Business Manager, Mr Jack Palumbo, and the Leadership Team, it has been a pleasure achieving together. I look forward to what exciting future plans together we can achieve in 2018 and beyond.

INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

"We constantly strive for continuous improvement in the introduction of new College initiatives and innovations, including the proposed PA system upgrades, new building technical installations, and classroom audio visual upgrades."

The IT Department is dynamic in nature, and adjusting to change is one of the demands that has to be negotiated. As our previous Head of Information Technology, Kj Maan, left the College early this year, we felt the loss of his unique character and the knowledge he accumulated. However, we have done our best to continue his personal and professional legacy.

Rob Chrzanowski is now Network Engineer, which is due recognition of his ever-widening expertise. Bayden Seliga's skills also continue to grow, and he has completed his AFL traineeship in six months, although this was anticipated to take twelve months. He has now commenced his Certificate IV.

Since I've been at this school, our IT office has depended on maintaining a level of good-natured humour, and we hope we are successful in extending this to any staff member or visitor. This includes students, who often pick up on the atmosphere of levity, and join in, always respectfully.

Clearly, we also have to engage in the serious side of things, which involves the ongoing maintenance of College systems, including our CCTV, copiers/ printers, VOIP telephone systems, school reports, 1200+ laptops, classroom audio and visual systems, network infrastructure and so on. While our days are often hectic, we love the dynamic nature of our work. We constantly strive for continuous improvement in the introduction of new College initiatives and innovations, including the proposed PA system upgrades, new building technical installations, and classroom audio visual upgrades.

Thanks to everyone for acknowledging our worth in 2017, and for recognising our adaptability, our hands-on approach to IT support, and our availability to promptly come to the assistance of a teacher in the classroom at any time. We endeavour to support our Digital Technology teachers and students to get the best out of the newly purchased ACER Predator desktop machines, which has enabled great student results. We provide support with events such as department expos, Student Led Conferences and the constant one-off set-ups that require IT involvement. Some of what we do is often more silently taken care of, such as maintaining cordial relationships with our suppliers and manufacturers in the style and manner that Kj demonstrated.

Some special thanks are in order. Thanks to Mrs Kamila Bielinski as Head of Humanities for her part in the Virtual Reality and Minecraft initiatives. Thanks to Leadership for trusting the IT Department to run our own show, and a personal thank you for allowing me the time to assume the responsibilities of IT Manager, some of which was partly known, and some that was new-job learning. It's been a gratifying challenge, and we look forward to continuing to provide the College IT support, with a smile.

CANTEEN

"This year the Canteen received the 'City of Monash Golden Plate Award' for the eleventh year running."

Once again, 2017 was a very busy year for the Canteen, with 1032 students and an ever increasing number of staff and parent functions. It is a challenge trying to get everyone fed quickly!

We had 139 parent volunteers on the roster this year, which is probably the largest number of volunteers we have ever had to manage. Their effort is certainly well worthwhile, however, as helpers quickly become part of our school community, and are an integral link in the chain when it comes to the daily running of our Canteen. Among our 2017 helpers were three dads and one parent of an ex-student, who generously volunteered their time.

Apart from the main daily tasks of having meals and snacks ready for the students and the staff for breakfast, recess and lunch, we also arranged all the tea and coffee supplies for all staff, as well as ordered and catered for more than 230 events throughout the year. These events ranged from small staff morning teas to the larger events that occurred during Don Bosco's Oratory Week. Without the help of our wonderful team, including Lores, Julie, Jenny and all of our volunteers, this work would not be possible.

At the Year 12 Valedictory Dinner we had the pleasure of presenting a small token of appreciation to four parent helpers who left the College after volunteering for six continuous years or more.

These were:

6 Years (2012-2017):

Francis Athanasius, Janet Dixon, Lisa Ollerenshaw

10 Years (2008-2017): Maria Martinelli

We wish you all the best in the future.
We will miss you!

A special mention and thankyou to the Year 12 students who gave up their recess and lunch breaks to serve at the counter during very busy times. As a small token of our appreciation, on Tuesday 17 October we hosted these ten special young men at a morning tea whilst we served at the counter.

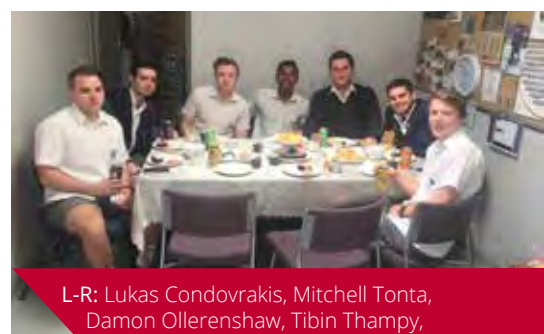

This year the Canteen received the 'City of Monash Golden Plate Award' for the eleventh year running. We passed with flying colours and received our 5-Star Food Safety Assessment Certificate. This award is a great recognition of the efforts of all Canteen staff and parent volunteers.

On behalf of Julie, Jenny, Lores, all our Canteen helpers and myself, I wish you all a safe and happy holiday season, and I look forward to seeing you in 2018.

PARENTS' ASSOCIATION

"(Our new logo) was developed in collaboration with the College, and brings together the three core relationship elements that represent the PA and our values: Parent, Student and College."

It has been an exciting journey in my first year as the Parents' Association President, with fantastic attendance at our events and the launch of our new PA branding. Firstly, I'd like to acknowledge Chris Cahill (our previous Parents' Association President) for her hard work and excellent handover in 2016. She made it very easy for me to step into the role.

We ended 2016 with a very hot welcome for almost 650 people, as we served up burgers and sausages to the 2017 Year 7s and their families in 35+ degree heat! It was great to see so many new people making friends with each other in preparation for their journey ahead.

At the start of the school year, the new families enjoyed a social evening and got to know each other. The PA served up some delicious food and wore "Ask Me" badges to encourage new school families to have a chat with us about the role we play in the community.

In March I had the pleasure of attending the 2017 Hall of Fame Dinner, and what a truly impressive night it was! It was an extra special year as we celebrated 60 years of Salesian College. I was in awe of the fine young men that Salesian has produced over the years.

We celebrated Mothers' Day with a wonderful liturgy and breakfast for almost 280 mums and boys. A big thankyou to our Parents' Association dads who took care of the preparations so that we could enjoy some time with our boys. The Fathers' Day Breakfast resulted in another amazing turnout of over 200 dads and their boys attending the liturgy, followed by a delicious breakfast.

The PA was delighted to assist at the annual Cabaret Night, and it was another awesome night that displayed the talents of current and past students, and friends of the College.

We will finish what has been a very busy and rewarding year with our 2018 Year 7 Welcome events, and our end of year celebrations.

To recognise the important role that the Salesian Parents' Association plays in the College community, we launched the Parents' Association brand with a new logo this year. This was developed in collaboration with the College, and brings together the three core relationship elements that represent the PA and our values: Parent, Student and College. The new logo is underpinned by our Vision: to be a vibrant parent body fostering parent participation and strengthening our community.

Our Mission is to play a vital role in establishing a vibrant College community where all members share a sense of connection and belonging by providing:

- A parent voice on all relevant issues
- Opportunities for parent engagement, and
- Positive support for College values and expectations

A massive thankyou goes to Lois Curry, the Parents' Association Vice President. Lois' talents are nothing short of magic. She is the brains behind the operation, and ensures that all our events run well. The PA Committee (especially Ruth Loiacono and Lorena Bravo, who have assisted at every event this year) have all worked tirelessly to make every event a success. I'd also like to acknowledge all the parents who have assisted in any way this year. All your efforts have made an enormous difference to the Salesian Community, and have helped us to succeed in our vision of "working together to build the school community".

Mrs Tracy Stone

Parents' Association President

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

It has been an exciting year for Religious Education at Salesian College Chadstone, with the development and ongoing implementation of the renewed RE Curriculum Framework. Staff and students have explored the idea of the Pedagogy of Encounter. This idea of Religious Education being an encounter relates to the concept of the teacher walking with the students on their faith journey. The renewed Religious Education Curriculum Framework helps us to come to terms with the idea that we do not have all the answers to the 'big questions' in life, but we are in it together, and are ready to try to tackle these questions. The learning encounter starts with the students and their experiences, and ends with the students and the world around them. As Irish Theologian Thomas Groome states, "Religious Education is about bringing life to faith, in order to bring faith to life", and this is what the renewed RE Curriculum Framework embodies.

It was a very energetic year in Junior RE. The Year 7s have started their study of Religious Education with what it means to be at a Salesian School. They tackled the question, 'What does it mean to 'belong'?' with a special focus on what it means to belong to the Salesian Family. The Year 7s also studied our core beliefs and decision making processes, and got an overall sense of what it means to be Catholic. A particular highlight for Term Two was the Mary MacKillop Production, which the students thoroughly enjoyed. The Year 8s have been engaged with various classroom discussions, from the role of women in society to the need for a sense of Social Justice. Talking about these issues will develop the students holistically and help them to understand their sense of place in the world. The Year 9s have a somewhat alternative programme, with Religious Education in Semester One solely focusing on Social Justice. Students focused on Global Issues in Term One, and then looked at Local Issues of Social Justice. The students also further developed their understanding of the Salesian Community through their Term Three study of the Salesian Missions. They were able to experience and learn about the work our community is doing throughout the world.

In Senior RE, the Year 10s started the year looking at decision making, which was timely, considering that they had decisions to make about their future pathways. As the year progressed, the students focused on the fundamental teachings of Catholicism and developed an understanding of the history behind the Church. Students in Years 11 and 12 completed Units 1-2 Religion and Society. This is a fantastic course, which offers students the opportunity to engage with RE on another level. Students in Year 11 studied various world religions from Buddhism to Islam, helping them to appreciate the importance and place of religion in the world. In Year 12 the students examined different ethical theories, and explored issues such as abortion, euthanasia and marriage. This was a perfect culmination of their Religious Education studies, bringing together the knowledge they have built up throughout their time at Salesian.

SOCIAL JUSTICE LEAGUE

In striving to achieve social justice, this year at Salesian College we have undertaken some challenging and worthwhile experiences, and have raised an incredible amount of money to help those less fortunate than ourselves. As we are both a Catholic and a Salesian school, each Term we focus on different Social Justice initiatives that aim to help many different people better their futures.

In Term One, our Social Justice focus was Caritas, and we raised funds to support underprivileged communities around the world. These funds are distributed as part of Project Compassion and, instead of using the money to buy food for those in need, funds are spent on developing the skills of individuals and communities so that they are able to build sustainable futures for themselves. In total, Salesian College raised $6146.00 to donate to this cause.

Term Two was especially fundamental in developing our knowledge of poverty and homelessness in our local area. Our Social Justice focus was the St Vincent de Paul Winter Appeal, where we collected over 1350 non-perishable food, clothing and blanket items to be donated to those in need this Winter. One key event that we ran was our 'Winter Sleep-Out', when the 50 boys who attended were able to broaden their knowledge of homelessness by engaging in discussion with two guest speakers, and also undertaking a 'sleep-out' experience, which saw them brave the cold and sleep on cardboard boxes to empathise with those many people who are in a similar situation every night.

"We, as students, are provided with humbling opportunities to become involved and to make a positive contribution to society in ways that we never knew were possible."

In Term Three, our College community celebrated together during Don Bosco's Oratory Week, where we supported the Salesian Missions. We held our annual College Walkathon, a Coin Line Competition and a Casual Clothes Day, where all the money raised went to the Salesian communities of Samoa. The total raised this term was $31,500, an absolutely outstanding effort from all the students and staff at the College. With this money, we can help supply resources to the Salesian schools in Samoa, help pay school fees, aid in building new facilities and much more!

Finally, our Social Justice focus in Term Four was the St Vincent de Paul Christmas Appeal, where each Oratory class created a Christmas hamper to give to a family in need during the festive period.

It has been an enthusiastic year here at Salesian College fighting for social justice, and it is exciting to think about how we can further exceed our expectations next year. Special thanks go out to our hardworking Social Justice

Captain, Patrick Lov, who has worked tirelessly throughout the year to inspire others to do their part.

Lastly, I would like to leave you with our captains' thoughts regarding the question:

"How does Salesian College strive to achieve social justice?"

"Opportunities. Salesian College facilitates our growth in the Social Justice area by providing enriching, unique opportunities."

- Patrick Lov, Social Justice Captain

"Salesian College is always committed to going above and beyond in order to assist those marginalised members of our community. We, as students, are provided with humbling opportunities to become involved and to make a positive contribution to society in ways that we never knew were possible."

- Stefano Mascaro, College Captain

DON BOSCO'S ORATORY WEEK

Don Bosco's Oratory Week is an important celebration in the Salesian College school year. The aims of this special week are to celebrate:

1. Being part of the Salesian Family (in Chadstone, Victoria, Australia and the South Pacific region)
2. Being a faith filled community
3. Who we are as a multi-cultural and diverse community
4. The social justice work we dedicate ourselves to
5. The connection we have to the local community

The week took place from Monday 11 September to Friday 15 September, and what a week it was, despite the weather!

The week was launched with our Annual Walkathon. This year, it was organised through the local streets of Chadstone, Mount Waverley and along the Scotchman's Creek Trail. Not only was this an opportunity to celebrate our Salesian College community, it was also an opportunity to raise money for our Salesian community in Samoa. It was great to walk together as a mark of solidarity with others who are less fortunate than ourselves.

As Woolworths were once again running their Earn and Learn Program, Salesian College registered, and so far we have collected over 15,000 stickers. These stickers will be redeemed for educational materials that will be sent to our schools in Samoa as part of our Don Bosco's Oratory Week celebrations.

Every Oratory class participated in our Banner Making Activity, which encouraged boys to reflect on a Year Level specific question. Banners were then displayed at our Whole School Salesian Festival Day Mass. These questions included: "How do you fit into the Salesian Family?", "Don Bosco taught his boys that it was never too late to change. How can your past and present Salesian experience influence your future?", and "You have learnt much on your Salesian journey, although your journey as a young man is just beginning. What sort of man would you like to be?".

The week was filled with fun activities at lunch time which included Staff Vs Student Netball, Basketball, Downball, Dodgeball and Debating. A House Coin Line Competition was organised, which raised over $100, and boys participated in Chess, computer games and, of course, Sing Star. It wouldn't be an Oratory without music, so during each lunchtime we had great performances from staff and students.

On Wednesday, Fr Greg Chambers, the Provincial of the Salesians in the South East Pacific Region, unveiled and blessed our new Don Bosco Statue, which depicted a life-sized Don Bosco with a modern Year 7 student, carrying a Salesian College bag and sporting a College blazer. The statue is more than a mere sculpture, but rather an embodiment of all that we as Salesians are, and all that we strive to become. Beautifully positioned, with Don Bosco's arms stretched out, directing the boy towards the Chapel, it is a source of inspiration to all those who come into contact with it. It inspires us to make this school a place of welcome, a place of learning, a place of prayer and reflection, and a place where friendships are made. The statue encapsulates the essence of Don Bosco's early work that continues in our mission today for us to follow the example of Don Bosco at Salesian College, to always be filled with joy, optimism and gentleness, and to encourage those in our care on a journey of wisdom and truth, enlightened by the Gospel.

Community Knowledge sessions ran through the week as well. These were all well attended, and covered topics including Respectful Relationships, Men's Health, Mental Health, Climate Change, Homelessness and 'R U OK?' Day.

Boys were all provided with a passport and given stamps for every activity they attended and participated in. These were then converted into Citizenship and House Points.

Salesian Festival Day completed the week in great style, despite the rain!

The day began with our Annual Whole School Mass for all staff and students. What better way to conclude Don Bosco's Oratory Week than to share Eucharist together, celebrating the gifts, beauty, goodness, achievements, hopes and joys of our unique community.

This Eucharist also gave us an opportunity to recognise that the great life we have been given here in Australia is one that we should celebrate and be thankful for. We acknowledged our extraordinary community, comprising people from more than 70 different cultural backgrounds. We spent time celebrating our diversity with our procession of flags, acknowledging that we are all united in God.

At the end of Mass, we also recognised the wonderful contribution that our Omnia Award Recipients have made to Salesian College Chadstone, and to the wider community. The Omnia Awards are presented annually to students who have made an outstanding contribution to community service within, or on behalf of, Salesian College. These students have demonstrated a community mindedness and action that is selfless, voluntary and regular, without the expectation of reward or recognition. This year we had six award recipients. Congratulations to Sheneth Fernando, Matias Gonzalez Jara, Patrick Lov, Peter Pamouktsis, Kieran Roach and Tibin Thampy.

Thank you to all those who were involved in the organisation of our very first Don Bosco's Oratory Week, and to all our students for participating.

Assistant Principal – Faith and Mission

HUMANITIES

2017 was a year of innovation and change within the Humanities Department.

The word 'humanities' is derived from the Renaissance Latin expression studia humanitatis, or 'study of humanitas', a phrase meaning in addition to humanity, culture and refinement. The understanding of humanities specifically relates to an education befitting a cultivated person. With all the changes and adaptations required with the implementation of the Victorian Curriculum, we have aimed to do just that – improve standards to assist in developing cultivated and refined young men.

New topics were explored within the Years 7-10 Curriculum. Year 7 students studied Aboriginal, Torres Strait and Islander Peoples and Cultures with great curiosity and imagination. The Year 8 boys were provided with the opportunity to develop transferable skills of critical and creative thinking in their investigation of Renaissance Italy. They expanded their capacity to undertake historical inquiry, develop analytical skills, use sources and explain and communicate arguments.

Year 9 students had the choice of selecting a new elective – Civics and the Law. This elective subject has proven to be a well-received predicate and introduction to Year 10 Humanities courses, teaching students to deal critically and logically with subjective and complex information. Year 10 saw the introduction of the Finance Business and Work Elective. Students explored sources of finance, as well as the risks and rewards associated with differing choices. Implications for future jobs, entrepreneurial endeavour and enterprising attitudes were investigated, with a particular focus on understanding how to best generate improved future work and business opportunities. It should also be mentioned that Units 1-4 Business Management and Economics implemented new study designs, so, all in all, we had an eventful, yet productive year.

The department has also sought to initiate numerous interdisciplinary and collaborative projects. This year we worked closely with the Year 8 Pastoral Team to co-ordinate Year 8 Experiential Week. The week consisted of three events: Year 8 Retreat, Medieval Day and Environmental Day. The week provided an opportunity for students to be immersed in hands on learning experiences. For Medieval Day, a troupe of performers was invited to the College to work with the boys to help provide them with a more realistic 'hands on' view of life during medieval times. The boys were involved in a range of activities and learning experiences which demonstrated the culture, education, fashion, games and tournaments of the period. Boys also learnt about the crime and punishment methods experienced by people during this time in history. During Environmental Day, students were involved in the 'Adopt A Park Program', and successfully developed the biodiversity of the area surrounding our school by clearing the land of litter and planting native seedlings. Along with the Monash Council, we were able to provide our students with an opportunity to learn about the harmful and costly effects of littering in our local environment, whilst instilling a sense of stewardship and ownership.

We also partnered with the Science Department to support the Years 7, 8 and 9 Biretta groups in showcasing their knowledge of and enthusiasm for the environment. The Year 7B class presented their case for the elimination of single use plastic bottles with their 'Ban the Bottle Campaign', and 8B presented their findings from an on-campus rubbish audit, communicating a sense of urgency in the need to recycle and limit landfill waste. 9B organised a successful community screening of the 'A Plastic Ocean' documentary, to inspire

"During Environmental Day, students were involved in the 'Adopt A Park Program', and successfully developed the biodiversity of the area surrounding our school by clearing the land of litter and planting native seedlings."

a 'wave of change'. The screening was attended by over 150 members of our community!

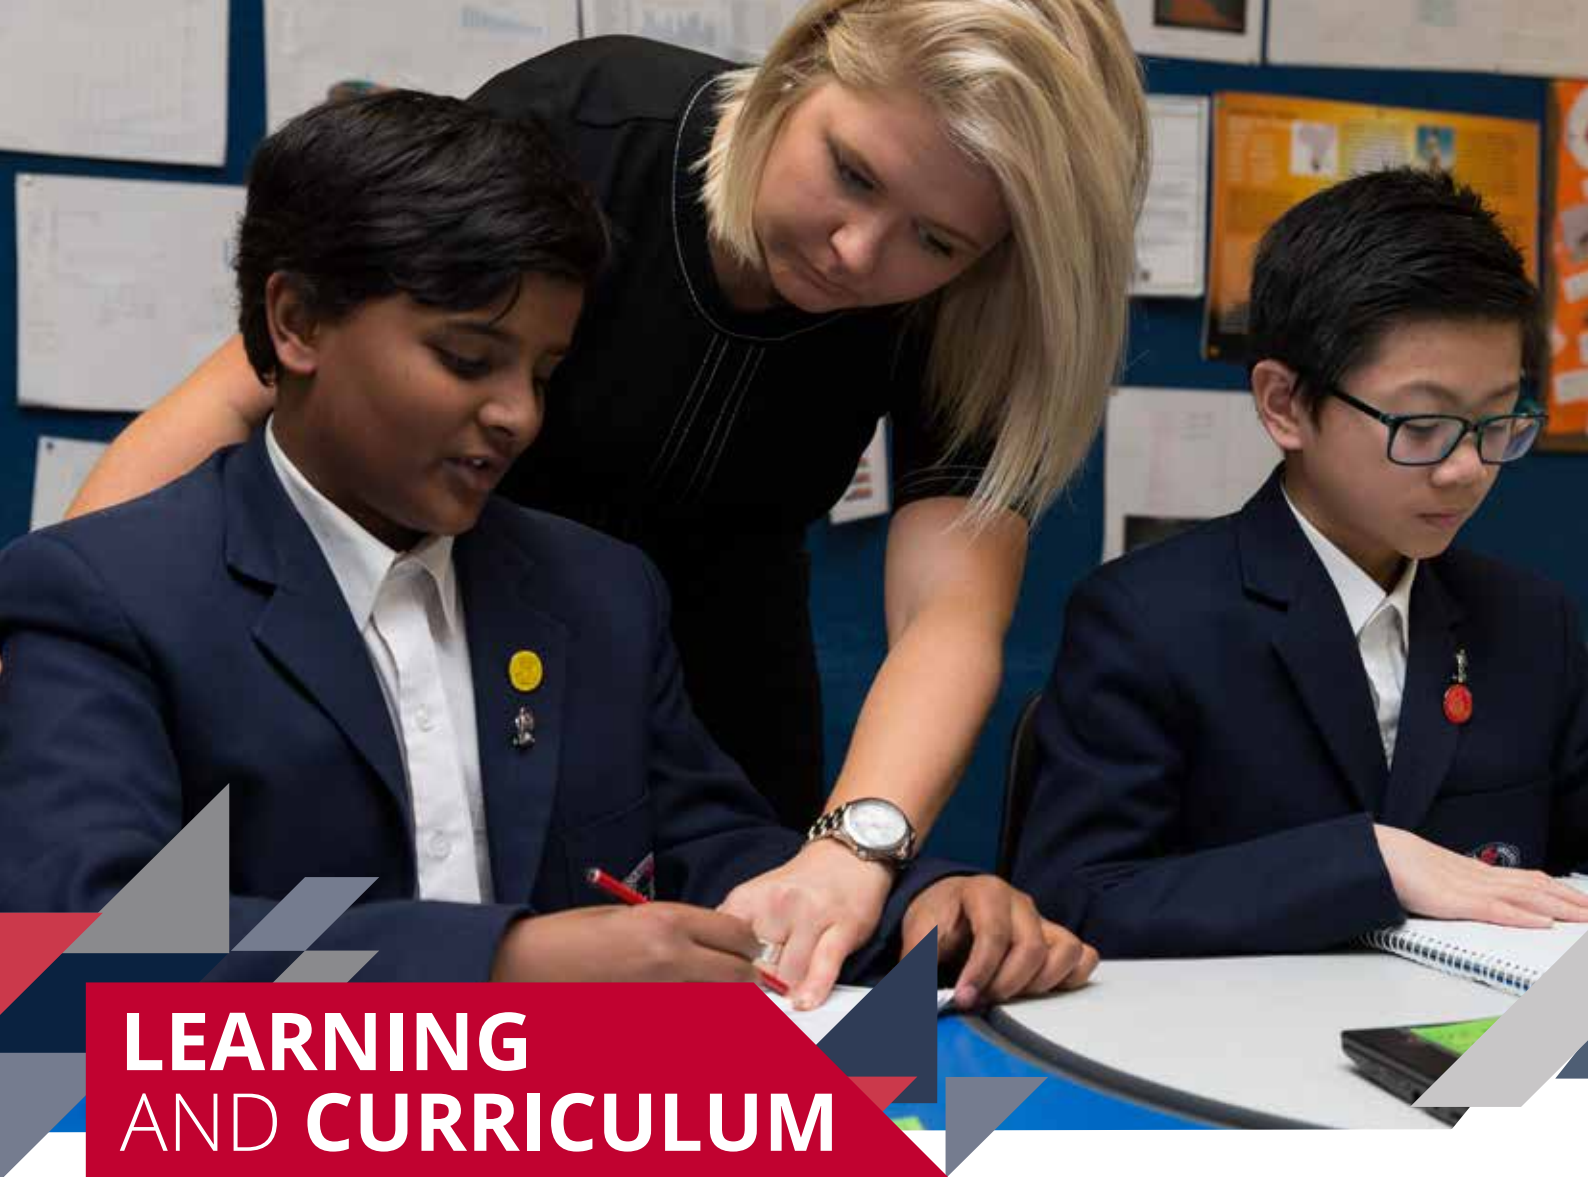

The Humanities and Science department also found congruence in the need for Virtual Reality technology in the classroom. We worked closely with the IT team to co-ordinate the project. We trialled the devices in Term Four, and found that they provided opportunities for students to 'learn by doing', generating a greater understanding of our curriculum. In their Humanities studies, students have explored the Great Wall of China, ancient Egyptian pyramids, Renaissance art and Medieval castles. Virtual reality expeditions have allowed students to learn by experience, ultimately adding depth and breadth to learning.

My sincere thanks to our hardworking and dedicated team, who have made the Humanities Department innovative and progressive, reflecting the needs of 21st Century education. It has been a privilege to work with such dedicated and diligent educators. I wish Mr Peter Bermingham all the very best as he embarks on taking the Humanities Department in new directions in 2018 and beyond.

Mrs Kamila Bielinski
Head of Humanities

LEARNING AND CURRICULUM

This has been a particularly busy year in the curriculum area. The key foci for development in 2017 have been to: (1) ensure that our Years 7 – 10 syllabuses are in accord with the new Victorian Curriculum, (2) introduce a raft of new subjects, (3) review policies and (4) lay the foundations for the introduction of a new school-wide pedagogical framework.

The Victorian Curriculum

Much of the first half of 2017 was devoted to ensuring that our Years 7 – 10 curriculum offerings were in accord with the new Victorian Curriculum, which comes into effect in the period of 2017 – 2018. This task entailed our Heads of Department conducting detailed curriculum audits and amending syllabus documentation with their teams.

New Subjects

Twelve new subjects were added to our curriculum offerings throughout 2017. It is pleasing to report that boys are able to select the following new subjects in 2018:

- Year 7: Chinese
- Year 8: Media Studies, Performance
- Year 9: Wide World of Sports, Innovations in Robotics, Math Animation, 3D Multimedia
- Year 10: Finance, 3D Game Development, 3D Inventor, Sci-Viz, Food Technology.

Of particular note is the introduction of Chinese into Year 7 and the expansion of Food Technology into Year 10. It is anticipated that the broadening of our curriculum via the introduction of this suite of new subjects will serve to further stimulate student engagement.

Policy Development

A new Homework Policy was commissioned in the middle of the year. Homework can be a vexing topic in schools. The Policy features clear guidelines and expectations for students, teachers and parents/guardians. It is expected that the Homework Policy will provide greater clarity for all members of our community.

In addition, a number of existing policies, including our Learning and Teaching Policy, Assessment Policy, Reporting Policy and Promotion Policy were reviewed and updated.

New Pedagogical Framework

One of the critically important events for us here at Salesian College in 2017 was the School Review conducted by noted educational experts Trevor Gordon and Dianne Pekin from the Australian Council for Educational Research (ACER) on behalf of Catholic Education Melbourne. Utilising ACER's rigorous National School Improvement Tool, Trevor and Dianne examined key College documents, inspected classes and spoke with staff, students and parents with a view to gathering insights into teaching and learning practices at Salesian College. A report was produced, which simultaneously provided the College with a great deal of affirmation and positive feedback, whilst also challenging us to move forward, with a view to further improving our pedagogical practices. We subsequently developed a Learning and Teaching School Improvement Plan for the period 2017 – 2020.

“A report was produced which simultaneously provided the College with a great deal of affirmation and positive feedback, whilst also challenging us to move forward with a view to further improving our pedagogical practices.”

We have created three new positions to provide leadership in this area. In Term Three, Mr Brennan was able to announce the following appointments:

- Mrs Kamila Bielinski: Director of School Improvement (Pedagogy Development)
- Ms Carolyn Ellul: Director of School Improvement (Curriculum Development)
- Mr Chris Pye: Director of School Improvement (Staff Development.)

It also became apparent that we must also be able to give our staff the necessary time and resources that will be required if we are to make far reaching improvements to our teaching and learning practices and environment. It will simply not be possible for our teachers to achieve these objectives via the usual means, which have traditionally involved a few after-school meetings and parts of the beginning of term Staff Days.

Rather than rely upon a few meetings tacked onto the end of the day, when teachers are weary from the day's work and anxious to prepare for the next day, we needed to find a system which enables staff to work purposefully each and every week at a time of day when teachers are reasonably fresh. To do this, some structural changes will be introduced for at least two or three years. The most immediately noticeable change is to adjust our timetable for Wednesdays. In 2018, one period per week will be shaved from the 2017 program to enable the school day to finish at 1.07pm for Years 11 – 12 students and 2.30pm for Years 7 – 10 students. This will enable staff to work from 2.30 – 4.30pm each Wednesday on the all-important task of improving the College's learning and teaching environment.

Throughout the course of 2017, our Heads of Department have done an outstanding job leading the College's curriculum. I wish to thank and congratulate Mr Craig Abernethy (Technology Studies), Ms Irene Apostolopoulos (Science), Ms Ros Aylward (Visual Arts), Mrs Kamila Bielinski (Humanities), Mr David McDonald (Mathematics), Mr Noel McGarry (Religious Education), Mrs Freda Pahomis (Learning Support), Mr Chris Pye (English), Mrs Ivana Ryan (LOTE), Mr Stephen Sellwood (Human Development), Mr Darren Winfield (Digital Technologies) and Ms Mez Xuereb (Performing Arts) for their wonderful stewardship of our curriculum. I would also like to thank Ms Carolyn Ellul for leading the Curriculum Team during my absence in Terms 3 and 4, Mrs Michelle Collins for her great administrative support, Mr Terry Cristiano, Mr KJ Maan, Mr Rob Chrzanowski and Mr Bayden Seliga for ensuring that our ICT platform ran so smoothly throughout the year.

Deputy Principal

ENGLISH

"Boys have been challenged to cultivate personal interpretations of theme and character, draft work, distil macro feedback and enact the recommended changes in order to enliven their essays."

It has been another vibrant and exciting year for the English Department.

Years 7 & 8

We have further embedded the Reading Program in our Years 7 and 8 curriculums. A quick scan of the library catalogue indicates that the number of students borrowing books has risen this year. In addition, we have created something of a mobile library service, with tubs of books placed in each of the classrooms. It is exciting to hear the boys having conversations with each other about what they are reading, and also engaging their teachers in these most erudite discussions.

The curriculum behemoths that are Mr Andrew Schillaci and Mr Dean Schimming have re-wired the Year 7 curriculum. There is now a clear emphasis on data informed differentiation and comprehension skill-build. The acquisition of the Education Perfect Grammar software package aided this pursuit.

We have also updated assessment at Year 8 so that it channels the skills we feel are applicable to the older year levels. There was also a real focus on group-based learning in classrooms. Thanks to the indefatigable Monique Capomolla for her work.

Year 9 & 10

Under the stewardship of the inimitable Mr Nick Filippis, there have been positive changes afoot at Year 9. There are new texts (The Chocolate War has garnered particularly positive reviews), and a real emphasis on boys cultivating lively interpretations of characters and themes.

Similarly, there were new texts studied at Year 10. The most notable of these was Macbeth – the windswept, desultory and ruggedly Scottish masterwork. Rather fittingly, boys studied this in the grey and gloom of Term Three. Miss Lexi Tsiavis, of impeccable organisational acumen, booked a performance of Macbeth. It must be said that the boys enjoyed the pomp and pageantry of this occasion!

Year 11 & 12

Year 11 has also received something of a makeover. New texts were introduced (it was great to see The Crucible return to the senior side) and engaging learning strategies were adopted, courtesy of curriculum warrior, Mrs Malwina Dwyer. We thank her for her organisation and largesse in sharing resources.

At Year 12 we absorbed the changes to the VCAA English curriculum and strategically built a course that would allow for a purposeful SAC 'season', as well as time to hunker down and prepare for the exam. Boys have been challenged to cultivate personal interpretations of theme and character, draft work, distil macro feedback and enact the recommended changes in order to enliven their essays. Thank you to the team, and to the boys, for making our hard-working Year 12 campaign an enjoyable one.

I thank all English staff for their work this year, as well as our students for their efforts. Indeed, when we combine enquiry, creativity and determination, we see genuine enjoyment and enlightenment. We look forward to pursuing this further in 2018.

Mr Chris Pye
Head of English

MATHEMATICS

“We saw a strong cohort of 117 students test their problem-solving skills in the Australian Mathematics Competition, now in its 40th year.”

When asked about the ‘mathematics of work and life’, Ray Peacock, a respected employer who was the Research Director of Phillips Laboratories (UK) replied, “Lots of people think that knowledge is what we want...(but) I don’t believe that, because knowledge is astonishingly transient. We ... employ people to actually do things or solve things”. He then identified flexibility, continuous learning, team work, communication and sheer persistence as essential. Dr Peacock is not alone in valuing flexibility and problem-solving. These skills are only going to become more important and necessary in the future.

We in the Mathematics Department also value these characteristics, and view them as characteristics of learning. Mathematics is a subject useful to everyone in their respective lives. We strive to encourage these characteristics through the way we deliver our courses and understand, realistically, that it is necessary to continually improve and develop our practices in order to get closer to achieving these goals.

2017 provided some unique challenges and some familiar successes and achievements. Firstly, the implementation of the new Victorian Curriculum gave us the opportunity to review and update our Teaching and Learning plans to include more examples of activities to stimulate flexibility and understanding through open-ended and interesting applications of concepts. The challenge to implement ‘algorithmic thinking’ in Years 7 and 8 as part of the digital technologies requirement provided coding challenges for both staff and students alike. The second year of the new VCE Study Design gave us the opportunity to build on our experience last year, in an attempt to make activities more accessible and relevant. For example, we introduced Networks into Year 11 General Mathematics.

We saw a strong cohort of 117 students test their problem-solving skills in the Australian Mathematics Competition, now in its 40th year. From the 83 Year 7 and 8 students (which included both Biretta classes) and 34 Year 9 and 10 students (which included 8 students each from Years 9 and 10 Advanced Mathematics) a total of 30 Distinctions was achieved, placing these students within the top 20% of the competing students in their Year Level in Victoria. Moreover, a total of 90 out of 117 achieved results which placed them within the top 55% of their respective Year Levels within Victoria. I congratulate all students who participated.

Finally, much work was done to further update and improve the three Year 9 Electives, Managing Money, Maths in Sport and Salesian’s Greatest Mathematician, making them more engaging and relevant to student interest. The Managing Money elective went to the Old Treasury Building, where they learnt about Victoria’s past, when gold was the only currency, and the implications this had on Victoria’s economy when the Gold Rush occurred. They also learnt about the issues with currency encountered by ordinary gold prospectors as they tried to exchange their gold for cash.

My thanks to all the Mathematics teachers for supporting our department in 2017, and I look forward to 2018.

SCIENCE

"Students continued to be involved in numerous extra-curricular opportunities such as the Big Science Competition (Years 7-10), with seven High Distinctions and eighteen Distinctions being awarded this year."

2017 has been a great year for Science at Salesian College. At the beginning of the academic year, the Science teachers had a conversation about the skills we wanted our students to possess when they finished their time at the College. As a teaching team, we are aiming to encourage curiosity in our students, and to help develop young men with analytical minds and strong communicative skills. We strive to develop critical thinkers who are both independent and collaborative learners. With this in mind we have focussed on providing our students with the opportunity to learn Science through true inquiry, while building a strong foundation for scientific literacy and skills.

Students continued to be involved in numerous extra-curricular opportunities such as the Big Science Competition (Years 7-10), with seven High Distinctions and eighteen Distinctions being awarded this year. Our Senior Science students had the opportunity to take part in the ICAS Science Competition, while our Year 12 Chemistry students once again took on the challenge of the Royal Australian Chemical Institute's Titration Stakes.

Our top team placed 47th in the State. National Science Week was celebrated with great flair at Salesian College this year. This year's theme was FutureEarth. The College ran numerous activities throughout the week to promote Sustainability Science in our community. Salesian College was a proud recipient of a Government Grant to run a Science Week 'mycoremediation' experiment, which saw us growing mushrooms in an effort to break down the College's waste paper. This experimental focus attracted many students throughout the week, who visited the Science labs during lunchtimes to contribute to our College experiment. Other Science Week activities included Oratory and individual science quizzes, photography and creative writing competitions, a Nude Food Day to raise awareness of plastic pollution and the opportunity to make reusable beeswax food wraps as an alternative to cling film. Students also explored methods of sustainable energy production through a range of Physics experiments.

This year also saw the redesign of both our Years 9 and 10 Core Science courses to incorporate a more integrated approach to scientific learning. Throughout the middle years, students will now explore the many facets of Science through integrated units such as The Evolution of Flight, Reactions in the Body, Sports Science and Human Impact on Natural Ecosystems. This approach highlights the true connectedness of the different facets of Science.

Highlights of the year continued into and out of the classroom. The Year 7s ventured down to Scotchman's Creek to conduct fieldwork research in our local environments, and the Year 8s put their learning of light to the test with a game of light-box hockey. Year 9 students explored the concept of electricity through construction of model houses, and cultivated their own crops to explore competition between plants. Year 10 students used their evolutionary knowledge of bird flight to understand how it has influenced the technology of commercial flight. Our VCE students put their years of Science to the test as they designed and conducted their own experimental research projects.

VISUAL ARTS

"The ACC Art and Design Show in June saw eighteen Salesian students from Years 7 to 12 selected to have their work displayed alongside that of students from the other ACC schools."

This year in the Visual Arts Department many students eagerly took up the opportunity to learn beyond the classroom and to get a taste of the many exhibitions, competitions and excursions on offer. Early in the year, many of our Senior Visual Arts classes attended the Top Arts, Top Screens and Top Designs Exhibitions, which served to provide inspiration and motivation for the Years 11 and 12s embarking on their folio tasks. The ACC Art and Design Show in June saw eighteen Salesian students from Years 7 to 12 selected to have their work displayed alongside that of students from the other ACC schools. This collaborative exhibition, held once every two years, was held at Federation Square, and it was a significant achievement for the boys to have their work displayed. The boys and proud parents were in attendance on the Opening Night, and some Year 8 Art classes also attended the exhibition to witness the outstanding Art and Technology projects across all ACC schools.

Term Three continued with many learning opportunities. Senior Studio Arts students attended gallery exhibitions, and experienced the operations of galleries such as the Monash Gallery of Art. Media Studies students experienced live studio performances such as 'The Project'. Year 9 Media Crew Students attended SYN Media School to have a taste of what it would be like to work in a community radio station. Students entered competitions such as the Pixel Prize for 2017 and High Resolves. George Kapaklis from Year 11 was a Monash Youth Film Festival finalist, while other competition winners are yet to be announced at the time of writing of this article.

An inaugural Salesian College Poster Competition was held for our Annual School Production of 'Mother Courage', and was entered by students keen to present their visual interpretations of the production. The competition was won by Year 12 VCD student Vasili Thomopoulos. Thank you to all the students who participated.

With Term Four underway, I would like to express my gratitude for how students have eagerly sought to make the most of their opportunities. This couldn't happen without an enthusiastic and dedicated staff. I thank Ms Mary O'Sullivan, Miss Elissa Galante, Miss Rachel Ivey, Mr Paul Wise and Miss Sarah Martin, and our technician, Mr Jonathon Stevens. I would also like to extend my gratitude to all students who have studied the Visual Arts this year. Each one of you has expressed your unique ideas, shown enthusiasm and brought your ideas to resolution. While there are students with acknowledged success, there are many of you who have experienced success in subtle and unassuming ways. There are many students who are yet to show their full potential as the year draws to a close. In any of these situations, my hope is that each student has experienced his own success and found a sense of pride and joy in his creations.

VISUAL ARTS AND TECHNOLOGY SHOW

The College's Annual Visual Arts and Technology Show was celebrated this year on a very balmy evening on Tuesday 17 October. The exhibition space was centralised in the Naylor Gallery and was extended into the surrounding art rooms. Outstanding pieces from Art, Media Studies and Visual Communication and Design classes were displayed very creatively by the Visual Arts team. Equally, there were some impressive Systems and Technology works, as well as Design and Technology pieces that showed great skill and refinement. This year saw the introduction of Food Technology, with students from the Year 9 MasterChef Elective engaging their culinary skills to provide warm finger food for the evening. This was served with beverages, which made for a welcoming and social atmosphere.

This year's guest speaker was Peter Higgins, a past Design and Technology student, who was short-listed for Top Designs and mentored by Mr Craig Abernathy. Peter reflected on his experiences of being a Senior Industrial Designer, including how he began in the industry, and his career highlights and unique experiences. Students from Years 7 to 12 who displayed hard work and passion across their chosen fields of study in Visual Arts and Technology were acknowledged in the formal part of the evening. It was great to see the parents and families of these students attend and show their support. Despite smaller numbers in attendance this year, the work shown was considered by many to be of a better quality than previous years, which is a testament to the efforts and expertise of both our Visual Arts and Technology staff.

A special thankyou to the students who volunteered their time to assist at the event. In particular, our Year 12 RSA servers and Tour Guides. A warm thankyou to all the staff who attended and worked collectively to make the night a special event in our school calendar.

ITALIAN

Language is a social practice of meaning-making and interpretation, a way of seeing, understanding and communicating about the world. To learn a language involves learning how to use words, rules and knowledge about the language in order to communicate with other speakers in that language. In studying Italian, students were encouraged to create their own meanings and interpretations. Students participated in the following activities to develop personal connections with the Italian language.

Year 9 Excursion to Grand Prix

In March, forty Year 9 Italian students went to Albert Park for the 2017 Melbourne Grand Prix. Having studied the topic of Formula Uno in class, it was great to experience the real thing. The noise, the commotion and the energy blew everyone away.

On arrival, the RAAF Roulettes went through their paces, but it was the Formula Uno cars that had everyone in awe at the speed and power of the engines. The students ventured around the many demonstrations, and were delighted to get some hands on experience. There were many cars on show, including the classics, the vintage, and, of course, the Ferrari. Even the teachers were able to test run some of the Vespas! The highlight of the day was seeing the Formula Uno cars on the race track. They were incredibly impressive, and very, very fast.

Dante Alighieri Competition

The Dante Alighieri Poetry Competition is a very prestigious event, with most Victorian secondary schools participating. It is a true celebration of language learning.

The competition was attended by all our Senior Italian students, as well as a few Year 9 students. Students attended Melbourne University to deliver their poem in front of Italian examiners. They presented their poems with great fluency and expression. All students are to be congratulated on their performances, but a special acknowledgement must be made of James Tighello and Elio Charbine, who were finalists. A High Distinction was awarded to Edward Feehan, Marcus Facchino, Max Piccolo and Karl Heinz. An Honorable Mention was awarded to Jonathan Bong, George Kapaklis, Luca Palma and Felipe Herrera. Congratulations to all our students on their performances.

Year 7 and 8 Swinburne Poetry Competition

The Swinburne Poetry competition was open to our Year 7 and 8 Italian students. This year, twenty students participated in the recital of Italian poems called 'Primavera Vien Danzando' (Spring Comes Dancing), I Cinque Sensi (The Five Senses) and La Pace (Peace). The students performed their poems with correct pronunciation, accurate expression and fluency. The winner of the Swinburne Competition was Emmanuel Louis. An Honourable Mention was awarded to Ashley Curry, David Hickey and Xavier Adams, and the Merit Award was awarded to Ben Abraham, Samuel Coronado and Travis Pemberton. After the recital, these students enjoyed a pizza lunch. Congratulations to all students who participated.

“Language Week was exciting for our students this year...Some classes took part in a Bocce competition, whilst other classes took part in cultural activities.”

Year 8 Language Perfect Competition

All Year 8 students took part in the Language Perfect Competition in May, which ran for two weeks. Students were challenged to answer Italian questions, and along the way they gained points for their efforts. Thenuka Perera received a Silver Award, and a Bronze Award was won by Jordan Ratumu and Johnny Ta.

The Italian Film Festival

The Years 10, 11 and 12 students attended an Italian Film pre-screening of ‘Troppo Napolitano’, giving them an insight into the beauty of Naples and its lifestyle, as well as the opportunity to practise their listening skills.

Language Week Festivities

Language Week was exciting for our students this year. Many delicious treats were available at the canteen, including cannoli, tiramisu, pizza and Baci. Some classes took part in a Bocce competition, whilst other classes took part in cultural activities. Many students enjoyed a big gelato from the Gelati Van! The highlight of the week was the Pasta Eating Competition. To enter the competition, students had to complete a set of questions focusing on cultural facts. Twenty-four students were then selected to compete for their House. Each competitor wore a white t-shirt and abided by the correct eating technique of twirling the pasta on the fork. Our Year 11 Italian students were strict judges and showed no mercy for competitors, deducting points for spillage, stains on t-shirts or lack of technique. All Houses presented strong competitors, and after all points were calculated, the winning team was Ancey! This event was attended by many students and staff, who strongly supported the spectacle. We look forward to a greater array of activities during Language Week next year.

TECHNOLOGY STUDIES

As the new Head of Design and Technology this year, I welcome the opportunity to report on the outstanding work done by students and staff in the Technology Department.

The Technology Department includes Product Design and Technology, Systems Engineering, Food Technology and Recycled Racers. The Year 12 VCE students in Product Design and Technology and Systems Engineering achieved some excellent results this year, with outstanding products produced by both subjects.

We were excited to see the new Food Technology classes completed at the beginning of the school year. The quality of the food produced by the Year 8 and Year 9 'Masterchef' classes was varied, coming from several cultures around the world. Congratulations go to Ms Maryanne Xuereb and her colleagues for setting up such an interesting and varied new curriculum subject this year. We look forward to seeing the subject offered to Year 10, with our new teacher, Ms Molly Tully, starting in 2018.

Some of the new technologies used this year by the students were the 3D printers that assisted the VCE boys in completing their complex projects to a high finished standard. We also introduced a new CAD drawing program that some of the boys embraced in the completion of their design options and working drawings for their folio criteria.

In October we had the opportunity to present the outstanding work achieved by the boys in all Technology subjects at the Art and Technology Exhibition.

We were lucky to have a skilled and informative speech from our guest speaker, Peter Higgins, a graduating Honours Degree student from RMIT University. Several parents and family members attended on the evening, and there was a lot of positive feedback from all areas of the school about the quality of the work on display.

The Year 12 Product Design and Technology students used a variety of sustainable and exotic timbers in their projects. Christian Hatt used Blackbutt on his table top, Michael Brew used Blackwood for his desk top and Alex Nanfra made a well designed and constructed table out of Tasmanian Oak. The Dux for 2017 in Product Design and Technology was Alex Nanfra and the Dux for Systems Engineering was Dylan Caminos.

Lastly, I must acknowledge the effort of the Technology Department staff, whose support and assistance have been most appreciated throughout the year. The teachers in this department often go out of their way to help the students by providing lunchtime, after school and holiday classes. Many thanks to Mr Rob Marley, Mr Peter Moore, Mr Kim Beurs, Mr Paul Wise, Mr James Dutton and Ms Maryanne Xuereb. Best wishes and good luck to Mr Peter Moore as he retires after 22 years at the College. I am sure thousands of boys will always remember his compassion and caring nature, as I will. We look forward to Mr Bob Sinadinos taking over the reins from Peter in the Systems Engineering subject next year.

OAKLEIGH CONNECTIONS

“Every Friday at lunchtime we welcome into our community our friends from OC Connections, and in return they bring joy and life, enriching both the College playground and those who take the time to reach out.”

Every year I get enormous satisfaction from watching so many Salesian students make a small but significant difference in the world, through their participation in the Connections Program. When it began, the program involved the ‘Kew Cottages’, with the report in the 1985 College Yearbook stating that “many students have volunteered their Friday lunch-times to offer their assistance and friendships”. More than thirty years later, even though we now engage with OC Connections (formerly Oakleigh Centre), the same thing happens. Students give of themselves to help and befriend others. Typically, we welcome 5-6 guests with intellectual disabilities, who relish the opportunity to interact with our community. Their visits begin with lunch and finish with kicking the football, throwing the Frisbee and simply catching up with what each other has been up to since the last visit.

For some Salesian students, their involvement in the program is only fleeting (perhaps one or two lunchtimes), but for others it becomes part of their weekly routine. More than twenty students have participated during 2017, with Sheneth Fernando, Anthony Basile, Kevin Joshua, Will Kirkman and Alex Mathieson in particular deserving recognition for the commitment they have each made through their regular Friday attendance.

Miss Elissa Galante and Mr Tom Dexter have again been amazingly generous in their support of this program in 2017, coming along on Fridays during lunchtime to enjoy the company of our friends and students. Both act as outstanding role models and provide fantastic support, exhibiting real selflessness in the true Salesian tradition. Barb and her team in the Canteen never fail to supply lunch, something our friends always appreciate (especially the doughnuts)! As always, Heather and Gesualda have played a friendly and welcoming role, acting as the ‘gatekeepers’ for the College. Thanks to these amazing staff members.

With a view to 2018, I encourage and welcome anybody who is interested to come along, get involved and make some new friends!

Every Friday at lunchtime we welcome into our community our friends from OC Connections, and in return they bring joy and life, enriching both the College playground and those who take the time to reach out.

RUA RESOURCE CENTRE

"Once again the RUA Resource Centre has undergone changes to both its services and spaces... (including) the introduction of a student initiative, the Year 12 Silent Study Area, which accommodates 34 Senior students, and an additional Closed Classroom space."

Twenty years ago, in our 1997 Yearbook, under the heading 'School Libraries – a World of Information', Mrs Carol Lawton, the College's Senior Librarian, wrote, "This year has been another year of change, as we have continued to expand the facilities within the Library". The changes that were introduced in 1997 were predicted to 'add increased flexibility and access, which are more important than ever in the information age'.

Exactly the same introduction could have been written for this year's RUA Resource Centre report, as once again the RUA Resource Centre has undergone changes to both its services and spaces. These changes have included the introduction of a student initiative, the Year 12 Silent Study Area, which accommodates 34 Senior students, and an additional Closed Classroom space. The Library can now support the learning and reading needs of three classes at a time.

Another important change was the upgrade of our Library Management System, Access-It. This new version adds even more flexibility and easier access to print and electronic resources for staff, students and families. The final physical change to occur this year was the major weeding out of many out-of-dates titles in the Non-Fiction section. This weeding out has cleared the way for the College Library to commence a restructuring of the Print Collection during 2018. This major revision will introduce new titles specifically aligned to the curriculum, and will result in a specifically curated collection that directly supports the learning tasks undertaken by students.

We participated in Book Week during August, with the theme 'Escape to Everywhere', encouraging students to borrow many new books that allowed them to escape their everyday world. Congratulations to Robbie Miller, Albert Mathew, Jude Vulling and Alex Forster from 8F, 'The Outcasts', as they overcame challenges to become the first team to successfully flee the 'Escape Room'. Another wonderful event was Don Bosco's Oratory Week. The final day of this special week, Salesian Festival Day, saw record numbers of students attend the activities that the Library hosted. Many thanks to Miss Martin, Mr Caligiuri and Mrs Triafylos for their ideas and practical help on the day.

Mrs Carol Lawton finished the 1997 report by saying, "We are all looking forward to an exciting year ahead, with the expansion of the learning technologies in the Library. It will be a time of shared learning and opportunity for all". This statement, written so long ago, remains just as true and accurate for this report. I too am looking forward to another exciting year of shared learning in the RUA Resource Centre. Next year promises to be full of change and innovation, as the College Library continues the tradition of adapting its services and facilities to meet the emerging needs of all members of the College Community.

Head of Information Services

PERFORMING ARTS

"I'm very proud to say that despite being the smallest group present at the event (16 boys), we were awarded Silver for our performance."

The Performing Arts Department seems to grow every year. The boys have participated in a number of events throughout the year, both externally and within the College.

We started 2017 with three days of intense rehearsals at our Music Camp at Ferngully Lodge in Healesville.

'Mother Courage and her Children' was our College Production this year, in partnership with Sacred Heart Girls' College. What a great event it was, with amazing talent both on stage and off. Huge congratulations to Mr Adam Croft and his wonderful direction in producing a fantastic play. The music was written and performed by the talented Billy Drakopoulos of Year 11, along with Liam Hatt, Joshua Fernando, Phillip McKenzie, Tony Vu and Leo Kong. The entire show had the audience captivated until the end. The boys and girls should be very proud of what they achieved, as we had nothing but outstanding comments. It was also the first time we have held our production in the Fr Bill Edwards Auditorium, and what a great space this has turned out to be. It is wonderful to see that Drama now has its own space to call home.

Each year, our concert band participates in the Victorian Schools Music Festival (VSMF) at Hawthorn Arts Centre. Time and time again we see our bands do a marvellous job. This year the Concert Band came away with good results.

The 12th Annual Cabaret was a night to remember. I was so overwhelmed with the quality of the performances that I didn't take many photos, but luckily we had our Marketing team on the job. I was blown away with how talented our College Community is. Huge congratulations to all performers on the night, and a massive thank you to the crew (past and current staff and students, and the Parents' Association) for all their hard work behind the scenes. The Cabaret illustrated what a wonderful community we have here at Salesian College.

Finally, mention must be made of the Autumn and Spring Concerts. Each Semester, our Year 7 students learn an instrument and play as a band. The students have one 40-minute lesson a week to learn how to play an instrument and master the music for the Semester Concert. Four Year 7 classes per semester came together and performed as one ensemble in either the Concert Band, String Ensemble or Vocal Group. It was wonderful to see the enthusiasm of the boys to learn something new and step outside their comfort zone. Seeing 100+ boys sing together is truly something special, and something I look forward to every semester.

The Music Department participated in their first ever International Music Tour to Honolulu, Hawaii in March. The Pacific Basin Music Festival is an international event that brings together some of the most talented high school level instrumental and choral music ensembles from many countries, and this year included the Philippines, Canada, New Zealand, the USA and Australia. I'm very proud to say that despite being the smallest group present at the event (16 boys), we were awarded Silver for our performance. While this is a massive achievement, the experience of travelling internationally to perform will also never be forgotten.

The friendships and life skills the boys got from participating in this tour are so valuable, and will be treasured for life. We are off on tour again next year, this time to the Gold Coast in Queensland with 30 students.

Drama currently runs from Years 7 – 10, with students performing a wide variety of dramatic work. In Years 7 – 9 this work is created by the boys, and tends to be mainly comical. This process culminates at Year 9, when students perform their specially written work for a primary school audience.

At Year 10 students explore meaning in established theatrical work. They go to the theatre to see professional performances, perform scenes from selected plays and also create set designs, costume designs and lighting designs for performances.

As we begin to wind up 2017, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of the staff in the Performing Arts Department, including Mr Adam Croft, Miss Elissa Galante and Mr Paul Wise, and our instrumental staff, Miss Melissa Adela, Mr Dorian Broomhall, Ms Zoe Frater, Ms Emma Hallett, Ms Laurien Kennedy, Miss Laura Nichols, Mr David Neville, Miss Sharmila Periakarpan, Mr Michael Shepherdson, Mr Brendan Toohey, Mr Evan Tweedie and Mrs Sylvia Winfield. Without all these wonderful, dedicated staff, my job would not be so enjoyable and fulfilling. Thank you for your support, enthusiasm and awesomeness in teaching our boys your magnificent talents.

2017 COLLEGE PRODUCTION

On August 25 and 26 a group of 43 students (cast, band and crew) presented their interpretation of a work that is widely considered to be one of the finest plays of the 20th Century, "Mother Courage and her Children", by Bertolt Brecht. Written in 1939, the play concerns a woman and her three children as they travel across Europe during the 30 Years War of 1618-1648. The family earn their living by selling goods to both sides of the Catholic/Protestant conflict. Her two strong sons end up enlisting, leaving just her mute daughter, Kattrin, to help run the family business. Along the way they meet various personages who are caught up in the day-to-day struggle of this war, an Army Cook, a Chaplain, an Armourer, a Spy, assorted soldiers, farmers and peasants.

The reason Brecht set the play during the 30 Years War is that this long fight saw almost half the population of Germany die. Protestant and Catholic citizens fled across Europe in their thousands to avoid persecution and slaughter. For the original (German) audience, this historical setting resonated strongly to their 20th Century ears.

Our production, like thousands of other theatrical works, is set in non-descript, vaguely modern times. After all, profiteering is something that still goes on to this day. The theme is universal, and the 20th Century saw more armed conflict than any previous century.

This team of hardworking students have worked since March on refining their work, learning their lines and how to sing the songs to bring to life this dark moral tale about the ravages of war. My thanks go to Mr Christopher Dalton, Principal at Sacred Heart Girls' College Oakleigh, for allowing his students to take part in our Production.

It has been an accepted theatrical convention for over fifty years to have original music accompany the songs in works by Brecht, and the music used in our play was composed by Billy Drakopoulos, a Year 11 student. The poster was designed by Vasilios Thomopoulos of Year 12, after he won a very close poster design competition run by Ms Sarah Martin. Apart from one musician and two technicians, all the roles (on stage and off) were undertaken by students from each of the two schools, giving them a great opportunity to own this series of performances. It genuinely was their work.

Our opening night drew a full house, and our third and final performance was also very well attended. The actors did particularly well at our matinee, and even though the theatre was half full, they still performed excellently, correcting the few minor errors made on the previous evening. It was extremely pleasing to see so many students attend as audience members for the three shows that were performed in The Father Bill Edwards Auditorium. It was great to have your support.

I would also like to extend my thanks to the many staff who helped supervise rehearsals, organise schedules, get props and transport actors over the last five months, especially Miss Elissa Galante, Miss Alexandra Tsiavis, Ms Carolyn Ellul and Ms Maryanne Xuereb.

Every year we have to thank and say farewell to some talented senior students who have contributed to the cultural and co-curricular life of the College during their time here. A huge thankyou to our Drama Captain, Bo Tran, and also to Joshua Cayetano, Wilson Dixon, Matt Gonzalez-Jara, Felipe Herrera, Alan Huynh, Robert Lim, James Smirneos and Justin Tan. You will all be missed.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

Salesian College Chadstone believes that Health and Physical Education is a curriculum area that engages students in worthwhile learning experiences that develop the skills, knowledge and self-efficacy needed to live healthy and active lifestyles. The Health and Physical Education learning area draws on a number of sub-disciplines including, but not limited to, Physical Education, Health Education, Personal Development and Nutrition.

We encourage students to make physical activity a habit. Regular physical activity for children increases the probability that they will lead an active life as an adult. Students who lead an active lifestyle during childhood are also at a lower risk of disease than an inactive person. Through experiencing a range of educational physical activities, each student learns to evaluate his own movement strengths and build the physical self-efficacy to choose activities that are safe and satisfying throughout life.

Year 7

All Year Seven boys completed a unit on Fundamental Motor Skills (FMS) to start the school year. Because all physical activity uses fundamental locomotor, non-locomotor, manipulative and specialised movement skills, these skills set the foundation for adult activity and form the basis of competent movement. If children develop competencies in fundamental motor skills, they are much more likely to participate in physically active pursuits in adolescence.

Throughout Year 7 students were also taught different practical units, including Hockey, Basketball, Volleyball, Football, Soccer, Tee-Ball, Cricket and Tennis.

Students also covered a wide range of theory topics, including sun safety, nutrition and the health benefits of physical activity.

Year 8

Throughout Year 8, students were taught different practical units, including Athletics, European Handball, Rugby, Lacrosse, Softball and Cricket, as well as a number of target sports, including Bocce, Lawn Bowls, Croquet and Ten Pin Bowling.

Students also covered a wide range of theory topics, including Lifelong Physical Activity, Mental Health and Wellbeing, and Relationships and Sexuality.

Year 9

The highlight of the Year 9 PE course was their participation in the Sport Education in Physical Education Program (SEPEP). The program had an interactive and social student-focussed learning approach that taught students about the numerous roles and benefits of different sports, in both a practical and theoretical sense.

Students undertook a variety of roles when participating, such as umpire, coach, player and administrator, and assumed responsibility for the organisation of their chosen competition.

Year 10

The semesterised Year 10 course equipped students with the knowledge of topics such as Biomechanics, Physical Fitness and Legal and Illegal Methods of Improving Performance. Students were provided with the opportunity to participate in many practical laboratory activities that enabled them to participate in and experiment with the theory concepts being taught. This course laid the foundation for VCE Physical Education studies.

VCE

The senior students of Years 11 and 12 elected to study either (or both) Physical Education and Health and Human Development. Through these courses, students participated in a range of learning experiences that integrated theoretical knowledge with practical application. Students also investigated health and human development in local, Australian and global communities.

The Year 12 PE classes were also able to visit Deakin University during their exam revision as a part of the school visits program. The boys were able to explore common laboratory methods to assess aerobic and anaerobic fitness, with one student participating in a progressive exercise test to exhaustion (VO2 Max Test).

Sports Academy

The Human Development department has also been busy this year organising the Sports Academy program, which will commence in Year 7, 2018.

The program aims to:

- Assist students to balance their sporting ambitions and academic studies in an encouraging educational environment within an 'athlete friendly school'.
- Improve students' sporting abilities through a specialised and accelerated curriculum, with an emphasis on long term athlete development.
- Promote and develop self-discipline, goal setting, time management and leadership through team and individual pursuits.
- Develop advanced skills, knowledge, understanding and pathways that lead into the VCE PE program or VET Sport and Recreation.
- Form direct connections with sport pathways beyond the College.

We congratulate the successful applicants and look forward to working with them in 2018 and beyond.

Acknowledgements

I would like to acknowledge the efforts of the Human Development staff who every day share their love of physical education with the boys, and whose support and assistance have been most appreciated throughout the year.

Term One

Term One began with the boys enthusiastic to return to the College after a well-deserved summer break. Beautiful February conditions made for an ideal day at the Salesian College House Swimming Carnival. There was a fantastic atmosphere at the pools, with perfect swimming conditions allowing the boys to participate exceptionally. Excitement was in the air as the final results were announced.

1. Moroney - 610 Points
2. Savio - 513 Points
3. Annecy - 501 Points
4. Collinson - 447 Points

Congratulations to Moroney on winning the event.

With the completion of the Swimming Carnival, the school shifted its focus to the Athletics Carnival. Once again, perfect conditions allowed the day to run fantastically, with all students showing their House Spirit throughout the day. This year brought the introduction of a new event to the carnival. The Salesian Stawell Gift showcased the best sprinters from each year level, as they competed to see who was the quickest over 100m. The inaugural winner was James Triskelidis in Year 7 from Savio House.

The final results of the day were:

1. Collinson- 1062 Points
2. Savio- 875 Points
3. Annecy- 804 Points
4. Moroney- 744 Points

Congratulations to Collinson on another fantastic carnival win.

Term Two

This term commenced with Years 7-11 students participating in their weekly house competitions. Each year level alternated between stadium sport (which consisted of basketball, soccer and handball competitions) and sport options such as Futsal, Basketball, Flag Gridiron, Chess, Tennis and Advanced Weight Training.

Finally, a Years 7 and 8 House competition, The Futsal World Cup, took place during lunchtimes. Collinson won the Year 7 competition, and Moroney won the Year 8 competition. This competition was very successful, and we look to expand it further next year.

Term Three

The Term began with the House Cross Country Carnival at Mannix Campus. On a cold and windy day, although with a few patches of sun, boys from Years 7-12 ran the terrific course that was set up on the day. Participation levels were great this year, and we look forward to building on this again next year. The final results on the day were:

1. Collinson - 478 Points
2. Moroney - 400 Points
3. Savio - 331 Points
4. Annecy - 302 Points

Congratulations to Collinson on a fantastic victory.

Term Four

The final term of the year has students participating in more house competitions and sport options to see out the remainder of the year.

From the Sport department and myself, we thank everyone for their help and dedication to sport in 2017. We would like to also thank all the boys who participated in sport, as their team spirit and commitment each week was fantastic. We look forward to another eventful and promising school year in 2018.

ACC SPORT

Vince Lombardi, the famous NFL coach, once said, "Winning means you're willing to go longer, work harder and give more than anyone". These words ring true as I reflect on our record breaking year of 2017, a year in which we won 19 individual pennants and 7 Associated Catholic Colleges (ACC) Cups. This was all due to the willingness of our boys and coaches to dedicate themselves to work harder and to give their all to ACC Sport throughout the year.

The year started with great excitement as the Swimming Squad headed off to the Melbourne Sports and Aquatic Centre to compete in the ACC Competition. With our Swimming Captain, Kieran Roach, leading the way, each member of the squad was able to find that little bit extra within himself to help us take out the Division 2 Championship. In the process we also won the Under 13, 14, 17 and Open Divisions and the Junior and Senior Cups. This victory has given us a promotion to Division 1, and we look forward to the challenges that this brings in 2018.

Term One also saw the start of the Senior Summer Sport season for Volleyball, Cricket and Tennis. Our Senior Tennis Team had a great season, making it to the Semi-Finals. Unfortunately, Whitefriars College were the winners in the Semi-Final. A special mention must be made of Yianni Billias for making the ACC Team of the Year for Cricket during Term One.

On the last Wednesday of Term One, the Athletics Team took part in the ACC Championship. The boys spent Term One training twice a week in the lead-up to this event. On the day we had some great individual performances, which helped us to take out the Division 2 Championship for the first time. We were also winners of the Under 13 and 16 pennants, as well as the Junior and Senior cups. It was a great performance by all the boys, and by our Athletics Coach, Mr Carl Egan.

The Soccer and Football seasons kicked off during Term Two. Our Soccer Teams had some great performances throughout the term. Some highlights included our Senior Team making the Semi-Final and winning back the Davie-Egan Cup in a wonderful display of soccer against Mazenod. The Year 9 Team also made the Semi-Finals, only to go down in the last minute of the game. The Year 7A team made it all the way to the final, not losing a game throughout the year. Unfortunately, they came up against a very strong Parade side, who were too good on the day. Well done to James Accadia, Evan Panagiotou and Michael Brew for making the ACC Soccer Team of the Year.

Our Football Teams also had a great year, with the Years 7, 8, 9 and Senior Teams making the Finals. Our Year 9 Team was able to go on to win the Premiership for the 3rd year in a row, a wonderful effort from this group of boys. Congratulations to Riley Collier on making the ACC Football Team of the Year.

Term Two also saw a history making performance by our Badminton Teams. For the first time our Junior, Intermediate and Senior teams all won the ACC Championship, going through undefeated during all three tournaments. This is a wonderful achievement for this group of boys. A special mention goes to our Badminton Coach, Mr Mark Wang, who dedicates himself to Badminton, giving up many hours to help train the boys in preparation for these events.

Hockey, Table Tennis, Basketball and Cross Country were the sports for Term Three. Our Year 10 Hockey Team had a strong season, making the Semi-Final, where they put up a good fight before losing to Emmanuel College. Our Year 7 Team had a great season, only losing one game, and made it all the way to the Final. It was an amazing game of Hockey for those who were lucky enough to witness it. With the score being level at full time, our boys were able to hold their nerve in the penalty shoot-out, and win our first Hockey Pennant for 10 years. Special mentions go to Josh Knight, a past College Captain, and Mr Carl Egan, who coached these boys. All other teams put up some good performances throughout the term, but unfortunately were not able to make the Finals. Congratulations to James Accadia (Hockey) and Kyle Gordon (Basketball) who both made the ACC Team of the Year during Term Three.

"Term Two also saw a history making performance by our Badminton Teams. For the first time our Junior, Intermediate and Senior teams all won the ACC Championship, going through undefeated during all three tournaments."

ACC Cross Country took place at Bundoora Park towards the end of Term Three. The demanding 3km and 5km courses saw the boys push themselves to their limits. We were able to win the Under 17 and Open Pennants, meaning that we also took out the Senior Cup. Well done to all the boys who put in the hard work during the training sessions.

Term Four saw the Years 7-10 boys compete in Cricket, Tennis and Volleyball. There were some solid results throughout the term. Our Year 10 Volleyball Team made the finals, with others just missing out by small margins. Well done to all the boys and their coaches for their efforts and attitude towards both training and games throughout the term.

ACC Sport at the College wouldn't run without the help of the teachers who give up many hours of their time to train boys and coach them during the season. Their dedication and enthusiasm throughout the year has been amazing. Congratulations on a job well done. Finally, thank you to all the boys for their hard work and effort throughout the year. Let's continue to build upon these successes in 2018.

SPORTS AWARDS NIGHT

As has become a tradition at the College, we celebrated our athletes' achievements for the year at our Annual Sports Awards Night.

This year, we were very fortunate to have Western Bulldogs Brownlow Medallist, Adam Cooney, and Melbourne City Goalkeeper, Eugene Galekovic, attend the night.

It was a great celebration of all the individual awards won by students, as well as a celebration of all the team premierships that we have won over the course of 2017. We would like to thank all the boys and their families who attended on the night.

A massive thankyou to all the staff who were involved in helping make the night a great success.

CHESS CLUB

Chess is an enjoyable and mentally stimulating game that helps develop reasoning, concentration, strategy procedure, and problem-solving techniques. The rules are clear and unchanging across the world, which means that all information is available to contestants equally. The game does not depend on foibles such as track bias, home ground favour or the conditions. One mind goes in against another and the result is determined cerebrally. The referee is what pieces remain on the board when the king is upended.

The popularity of chess amongst students at Salesian College is measured by lunchtime attendance, and there is always a seething gathering on any Monday, Wednesday or Friday. These sessions are marked by enthusiasm, intensity and healthy interaction. We don't experience any grand master tantrums, so goodwill and sportsmanship are always present. It is from these sessions that we are able to put together teams that represent the school in the ACC competitions.

This year Salesian College participated in two annual tournaments, the ACC Open Chess Tournament at Simonds College, and the ACC Junior and Intermediate Tournament at Parade College. Our boys conducted themselves well, and in the final ranking in the Open Tournament we placed 6th, with our Best Performing Player being Theo Tran, with 6 wins and one draw in his 7 rounds of play. Theo's performance in the Open Tournament earned him the 2nd Best Performing Player across the tournament on the day. Many congratulations go to him for this fantastic achievement.

Honourable Mentions were awarded to Leon Jiang and Nicholas Dimetriou-Dickson for their efforts on the day. In the Junior and Intermediate Tournament both our teams managed to achieve 5th place, and once again Theo Tran made a distinguished effort with a flawless 7 wins from 7 rounds of play. This earned him the Best Performing Player on the day, which was truly remarkable. Honourable Mentions were awarded to Dipinder Panesar and Zach Bushby for their fierce play on the day. However, it would be remiss of me if I didn't applaud the worth of all boys who took part in both tournaments. The value of our lunchtime sessions was in providing a forum for improving group and personal skills. It is a grounding where strategies are formed, and parry and thrust are sorted out over and over. My commendations and congratulations go equally to all boys for their determination and commitment this year.

A special thanks to Mr Paul Wise, Mrs Rita Bonne, Mr David McDonald and Mr Neil Carter for their lunchtime sacrifices, offering personal and team support, ironing out wrinkles, coaching, pep talks, strategic support and simply being a presence. We owe you all a debt of gratitude.

YEAR 10 PRECAL PROGRAM

"This program is designed for students who enjoy applied, 'hands-on' learning, and who wish to start a vocational pathway that will guide them towards further TAFE education, full-time employment, an apprenticeship or traineeship."

This Year 10 PreCal program is a precursor to the Applied Learning Program offered in Years 11 and 12. The aim of this program is to give students a taste of Vocational Education and Training, and is structured to support students who wish to pursue a VCAL pathway in Years 11 and 12.

This program is designed for students who enjoy applied, 'hands-on' learning, and who wish to start a vocational pathway that will guide them towards further TAFE education, full-time employment, an apprenticeship or traineeship. The beauty of this program is that it integrates a combination of mainstream curriculum in Literacy, Mathematics, Humanities and Science, utilising an Applied Learning approach to make things interesting.

In Semester One, students attended TAFE every Wednesday, where they completed a TAFE Taster Program, enabling them to trial a range of units amongst various trades, such as tiling, bricklaying and furniture making. In Semester Two, students had the opportunity to undertake work experience every Wednesday. This program enabled students to develop skills of independence, providing them with the opportunity to work in an industry of their choice and to observe the world of work in real time, outside of the classroom.

Throughout the year, students were provided with a range of projects and assignments to suit their learning styles. In Term One, students began work in Applied Learning Projects on speed and momentum, calculating the speed of model cars. This unit culminated in the annual excursion to the Australian Formula 1 Grand Prix.

Our Sustainable Vegetable Garden was a major project in Semester One, and involved the boys having to research and sketch the design of the vegetable boxes, establish materials required, determine costings, plan construction of boxes and develop a detailed project proposal. They then presented their ideas to College Leadership, built boxes, researched herbs and plants and organised an irrigation system. The boys eagerly took these tasks on, and have successfully completed this project, which is located in the Garelli area.

The boys undertook a 'Shark Tank' project as part of their Living Skills subject. In groups, the boys had to come up with an innovation, with the aim of developing a marketing plan, target audience, costing and packaging. The boys had to present their innovation to a panel of four members, who chose whether or not to invest in their product.

They also worked on a Human Rights Unit, and provided a detailed presentation of the violation of a specific human right. In addition, they focused on Climate Change and Sustainability, in connection with which they attended a Science Works (Planetarium) program. This year's Year 10 PreCal group may be small in number, but they are big in heart. They are always willing and motivated to get their hands dirty, as was the case at the Don Bosco three-day camp in Dromana, where the Year 10 PreCal boys assisted the Year 11 and Year 12 VCAL boys with the campsite vegetable patch and carpark. The boys are also currently working on creating a decking area, and tidying up the BBQ area at our Mannix campus. They are always keen to work for our community, having visited Amaroo House and the community gardens, and fundraised for the Salesian Missions. They have no doubt developed skills and expertise that will be integral to their 2018 VCAL Program.

As a new member of the College, I thank the PreCal boys for warmly welcoming me and making me feel at home. Despite the many challenges we faced together, I hope you've found 2017 to be a challenging, yet rewarding, year.

A big thank you to the 2017 PreCal team, Mr Steve Beckham and Mrs Rosa Salemmé, for your enormous contribution and support with the Program, which would not have run like "clockwork" without you.

I wish each and every PreCal student all the best, and I look forward to working with you and your families in 2018.

Mrs Deborah Rabot
Head of Applied Learning

"The Year 11 boys must be commended for their level of commitment to the completion of their projects and fundraising efforts."

YEAR 11 INTERMEDIATE VCAL

This year the Applied Learning (VCAL) program for Year 11 students took on a different approach. Students were still required to meet outcomes based on projects that incorporated all of their VCAL subjects, such as Literacy, Numeracy, Work Related Skills (WRS) and Personal Development Skills (PDS). However, it would not be as it was in the past, with a primary focus on building projects.

In Semester One, the boys worked on the organisation of a Pizza Day fundraiser, utilising the wood fire pizza oven to make pizzas to sell to students at a profit, with all proceeds going to charity. This project involved students having to calculate the cost of all ingredients and determine the correct pricing structure to ensure that a profit was made.

As part of our Law and Justice and TAC Units, students undertook an excursion to the Old Melbourne Gaol, where they learnt about the history of the Justice System in the mid-1800s. They then participated in a 'court room drama' at the Old Magistrates' Court in Melbourne. As a group, students had to come up with what they felt was a fair sentence for the defendant, taking into consideration all the evidence put before them.

During Semester Two the boys had their second excursion, 'Maths at Sea', at Polly Woodside. They boarded 'Polly', where they were treated to an abundant array of mathematical solutions to some challenging problems, without the use of technical equipment and difficult mathematical equations. This excursion was held solely on board an 1885 Tall Ship, with no mod cons, such as mobile phones, to assist with navigation, or watches to tell the time. It was up to students to use the concept of logic to work things out.

As part of Work Related Skills, students undertook their structured work placements, and all attended their VET (Vocational Education and Training) course each week. An excursion to Bombardier Transport in Dandenong South provided students with the opportunity to learn about rail safety. Students were given a tour of the facilities and shown a presentation about Occupational Health and Safety.

In late Term Three, Year 11 students attended a three day Applied Learning Camp at Don Bosco Dromana. This camp was run entirely by the Year 12 Senior VCAL group, and provided the opportunity for all PreCAL and Applied Learning students to form a closer bond. Students were able to undertake community activities, such as helping the camp to get rid of the current garden beds and assisting to expand the car park.

Term Three has been a busy one, with the boys designing and building toys to send to children in Samoa, and running a coaching/mentoring sports program for students from St Mary Magdalene's Primary School. In addition, students have been creating their own recipe book for young people moving out of home. A major focus of this Semester was on Asylum Seekers, from their historical treatment to the different views of political parties.

As a new member of the College, I was welcomed by all Applied Learning students and staff, and made to feel at home. Thank you to all the Applied Learning boys who chose to rise to the challenges of Term One and persevere as the year progressed.

A big thank you to the 2017 Applied Learning Team, Mr Tim Cox, Mr Scott Peacock, Mr Chris Hayes and Mr Paul Azar for your enormous support and contribution to the program. A special thanks to Mr Paul Azar, without whom the Applied Learning Program this year would not have continued to run, or have been as successful as it was.

The Year 11 boys must be commended for their level of commitment to the completion of their projects and fundraising efforts. I would like to congratulate the boys on a successful year, and I look forward to 2018.

Mrs Deborah Rabot

YEAR 12 SENIOR VCAL

Teaching the Senior VCAL boys for my first year as a teacher at Salesian College was somewhat daunting, as they are only a little younger than I am. However, the classroom soon became a happy and fun environment for all.

The year began turbulently, although quite quickly stability arrived in the person of Deborah Rabot, Head of Applied Learning. As the boys would attest to, she really laid the foundations of our program quickly, and immediately made a positive impact on the group.

Our two major projects in 2017 were the hugely successful World's Greatest Shave Fundraiser for the Leukaemia Foundation, as well as the first ever VCAL Camp, held at Don Bosco Camp in Dromana. It was a privilege to be involved with such a spirited bunch of young people, and these projects truly gave us a sense of mission.

Leukaemia is the third most common cause of cancer death in Australia, so when the idea was floated to raise much-needed funds for the Leukaemia Foundation, the boys rallied to the cause with purpose and enthusiasm. They prepared for the whole-school event in expert fashion, sacrificing their own fun and entertainment. Griffin McPhee and three staff members had their heads shaved. The boys raised a huge amount of $3,300 for the foundation, setting the scene for what was to come in 2017.

After many excursions and smaller projects along the way, the boys decided that the best way to end the year would be to run their very own camp for the Years 10, 11 and 12 VCAL boys. It involved considerable organisation across three days, but by now they had become adept at putting events together in an efficient and workable way. The programme included a trek out to Point Nepean, and upon arrival we discovered that the views were breathtaking. The boys soon got out their tools (a highlight for any Applied Learner), and the satisfaction of dismantling and removing four large planter boxes, recycling the wood to create car-park barriers, and the reward of a Trivia night and beach activities was felt by all.

The camp was a brilliant experience for everyone, and was a chance for the boys to show their social side away from the classroom environment, which further developed a spirit of team work and leadership amongst the group.

We have come a long way from where we began, and the boys should be extremely proud of themselves, their zest and personal growth, which will give them confidence and assurance in the future. It's been a humble pleasure to be invited into such a wonderful year of experiences. I wish you boys all the best for the future. Good luck!

PUBLIC SPEAKING AND DEBATING

“The Mary McKertich Competition is the College’s internal three stage public speaking contest, allowing all students to participate and to cultivate their speaking ability.”

The skill of public speaking is of the utmost importance. It allows people to deliver timely and insightful messages. The power of the spoken word is immense; it can change lives and influence the course of history. Being able to express yourself clearly and eloquently is a skill that will stand Salesian students in good stead to propose their views. The Mary McKertich Competition is the College's internal three stage public speaking contest, allowing all students to participate and to cultivate their speaking ability. The competition culminates in a formal evening event in Term Three, and all students who made it to the final should be congratulated. In 2017, we were also very proud to have students who represented the College with confidence, charisma and poise at numerous inter-school events, including the Junior Legacy and ACC Public Speaking competitions. All boys who competed in these events excelled, and it was with great pleasure that we announced that Ashley Curry of Year 7 made it to the State Final of the Legacy Competition.

Debating

The ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle once said, "It is the mark of an educated mind to be able to entertain a thought without accepting it". Indeed, one would be hard pressed to find another activity which does more to transform people into articulate advocates of their beliefs than debating. This year the College has seen record numbers of student participation as the boys strove to argue with intelligence, confidence and passion. Students participated in the Debaters' Association of Victoria Competition, in addition to the ACC Interschool Competition and Salesian's own House Debating contest. Thank you to all who helped coach and assist the boys with debating this year, in particular the DAV coaches, Mr Chris Pye (Year 12), Miss Christina Romano (Year 11), Miss Alexandra Tsiavis (Year 9), Mr Nick Filippis (Year 9) and Mr Andrew Schillaci (Years 11 & 8).

STUDENT WELLBEING

Don Bosco handed to us the Preventive System as a means of carrying out our educational and pastoral service. This system is based entirely on 'reason, religion and loving kindness'.

It brings together educators and youngsters in a family experience of trust and dialogue. Imitating God's patience, we encounter the young at their present stage of freedom. We then accompany them so that they may develop solid convictions and gradually assume the responsibility for the delicate process of their growth as human beings and as men of Faith. (Fr Peter Varengo 2015, Reimagining Don Bosco, p75)

Working in Student Wellbeing requires incredible patience and resilience. There is no shortage of things that come the way of the average family through this important time of adolescent development. When you have one thousand or so boys in your care, all with their own stories, concerns and anxieties, you have a massive task ahead of you.

At Salesian, while we don't claim to have the answers to all the concerns that our boys and their families may have, we absolutely do whatever we can as a team to walk along the difficult path with our boys and do what we can to help in any way we can.

The passing down of the wise words of St John Bosco definitely affects our staff and the pastoral care delivered at the College. There's a quiet calm and a sense that things will be OK that can be identified in the way that staff deal with their students at so many levels.

At the heart of every school, there's an extremely busy, highly organised group of people going about their business behind the scenes, with the aim of ensuring that all the boys in their Year Level are given the best opportunity to learn, to play and to grow. Our Year Level Coordinators are a hardy bunch, never shirking the call to go above and beyond the call of duty to get the best outcomes for their boys. Mr Kim Beurs and Mrs Rhea Beurs, Ms Romi Bennett, Mr Steve Beckham and Mr Craig Giles, Miss Ashley Simon and Mr Chris Hayes have done an incredible job over the year.

Mr Steve Beckham, who has been Year 8 Coordinator since Adam was a boy, took a six-month well-earned long service leave this year. Steve is a living legend at Salesian. I wonder how many boys would be able to recount their experiences of his gruff, abrupt voice, swiftly followed by the loving way in which he works for the boys in his charge, always trying to get the best outcome for them. Steve is well known for keeping a close eye on the most difficult situations, in order to help the boys get through their difficulties.

Mr Craig Giles took over when Mr Steve Beckham went on leave in 2017. Although he was new to the Year Level Coordinator game, Craig brought years of experience in the workforce to the job, as well as his experience coaching young men at our school. His quiet, sensible, no fuss approach has been much appreciated, as he too is in the role for the first time. A new Wellbeing Team, led by Joelle Chaperon, included Raj Kandasamy and Shruti Khazanchi. These three dynamic young people seem to be everywhere in the College, attending to the long term and immediate needs of the boys and their families. The families who work with these three are blessed to have such enthusiastic and professional advocates who always seek to get the best outcomes for the boys and their families.

This year, our College has been recognised as a lead school in providing Respectful Relationships education. This will allow our College to become a place where members of our whole College community are able to work with each other to promote respectful relationships at school, at home and in the wider community.

Respectful Relationships education is promoted by the State Government and endorsed by the Catholic Education Office in response to the issue of domestic violence in our community, and endeavours to create communities that treat each other with respect. It should not be confused with the Safe Schools Program.

It is an enormous privilege to work in this area of the school. To bring St John Bosco's dream to life at Salesian College Chadstone is at the heart of all our work, and we look forward to working for the boys and their families into the future.

PATHWAYS

"...There has been a continuous stream of questions from Year 9s through to Year 12s about University and TAFE Courses, and what subjects and ATAR scores are needed to get into these."

This year has been another exciting, challenging and rewarding one as Pathways Coordinator. Working with and knowing the boys better in my second year here has been very satisfying, as there has been a continuous stream of questions from Year 9s through to Year 12s about University and TAFE Courses, and what subjects and ATAR scores are needed to get into these. Individual meetings with all Year 12 boys were helpful in providing them with an insight into what they needed to do to achieve their goals. It has been a pleasure working with all these boys, helping them to explore the directions they might take when they leave Salesian College.

A number of Pathways Programs were delivered to our students in 2017. The purpose of these initiatives was to assist our boys in beginning to make choices about what they want to do when they leave school, and how they are going to get there. These initiatives included:

Year 10 Future Focus Days

This year saw a change in how we delivered the Year 10 Futures Week. We had two days in the last week of Term One, and two days in Term Two. All the boys participated in a range of activities designed to give them the best preparation possible for making future career decisions.

For the first time, we engaged the services of Tripod's Enterprise Education in-school programs to deliver a tailored program to our Year 10 boys. This was the perfect way to start our four-day Futures Program. The team spoke about the importance of employability skills, and helped our boys to discover their own strengths and areas they could work on. Tripod spoke about the importance of personal branding and making choices. The day's workshops culminated in 'The Big Pitch'. In groups, our boys were able to use the 'Enterprise Skills' they learnt on the day to present a pitch on their own product or concept. Watching the boys work as a team to come up with and then try to sell their product in a short amount of time was incredible. Challenging their ability to problem solve, make decisions, then deliver their pitch was an exercise that concluded their day perfectly.

On day two the boys took part in vocational interest questionnaires to look at possible tertiary courses, prerequisite subjects and resume writing. We also hosted Start Smart, who delivered a financial education workshop on earning. The aim was to equip our Year 10s with the confidence they need to make smart decisions about money.

In Term Two the Year 10s were taken to the VCE and Careers Expo at Caulfield Racecourse. This gave the boys the opportunity to gather information and resources for VCE, University, TAFE and other training courses. They were able to get career, course and employment advice. Most of the boys were able to fill their 'show bags' with plenty of information to read through.

The following day, the boys were able to spend time sifting through the information they obtained from the Expo and reflect on possible future career choices, pathways and subjects for 2018. There were also presentations from people in industry and past pupils.

Later in the term, our Year 10 Students also received an individual course advising session. These one-on-one sessions assisted in developing individual pathway plans, taking into consideration all possible tertiary courses and prerequisite subjects.

Year 9 Futures Day

In Term Two the Year 9 students participated in a Futures Day. The purpose of this day was to encourage the boys to start thinking about the choices they will need to make in terms of subject selections for not only Year 10, but also looking ahead to Years 11 and 12 (VCE and VCAL). The Heads of Department gave the boys an insight into the different subjects and pathways they will need to take to study various subjects in VCE. The Year 9s undertook an online career interest inventory designed to give students information about where their future vocational interests might be, and started writing their Resumes.

Thank you to all the Year 9 and 10 Oratory Leaders, Course Advisors, Heads of Department and presenters for assisting and supporting the Year 10 Future Focus Days and our Year 9 Futures Day in 2017.

After reflecting on the House Competition of 2017, I was full of pride in the efforts of so many Anney students and staff. As Head of House, I was responsible for organising and overseeing Anney's involvement in a wide range of events. Typically, this would require me to call for assistance from others in order for our House to participate. I have always loved the fact that so many students and staff are most obliging in stepping forward and doing what is best for their House.

The focus of so much effort was once again on the Salesian College House Cup. The Anney boys were always competitive, striving for both individual and team successes. Anney students were prominent in all aspects of competition, including Swimming, Athletics, Fundraising, Debating, Cross Country and other sporting competitions. Whilst Anney students enjoyed moments of success during 2017, unfortunately we weren't able to win the 2017 Cup. Congratulations to the staff and students of Moroney House!

As always, we took time as a House for prayer during 2017. A highlight was the gathering of Anney staff and students to celebrate the Feast of the Assumption Mass during Term

Three. I am grateful to Father Frank Bertagnolli who celebrated the mass for us, but also to the numerous staff and students who played roles during the mass.

It was a privilege to work with Dean Dritsas and Julian Russo this year in their respective roles of House Captain and House Vice Captain. Both Dean and Julian impressed me with their maturity, enthusiasm and work ethic. I would also like to acknowledge our Year 11 leaders, Joseph Manual and Harrison Tate, as well as Year 10 leaders Chris Nielsen and Massimo Capiello. Anney is very lucky to have such fine leadership talent amongst its pool of students.

Anney has always had a strong record of producing College Leaders. In 2017 we were well represented by Josh Cavallo (Sports Ambassador), Kevin Tat (Academic Ambassador), Anthony Ralogaivau (Liturgy Captain) and Patrick Lov (Social Justice Captain). These students willingly contributed to their House as well as to the College. Well done lads!

During the whole school mass on Salesian Festival Day, two Anney students received Omnia Awards, recognising their contribution to community service within or on behalf of Salesian College. Congratulations to both Sheneth Fernando (Year 11) and Patrick Lov (Year 12) on these well-deserved awards.

Whilst I have truly enjoyed my last three years as the Head of Anney House, it is now time for me to hand over the reins to my successor, Ms Christina Romano. I know Ms Romano will enjoy the support of Anney's staff and students as I have, and will lead this fine House to even greater success during her term in this role. Thank you Anney House, and go Lions!

Mr Peter Bermingham
Head of Anney House

"Annecy has always had a strong record of producing College Leaders."

What an outstanding year it was for Collinson House! Our journey began way back in January on our first day of school, when we welcomed our Year 7 students to the Collinson family at our House Assembly. The start of a new year brought a fresh sense of enthusiasm, and our students were offered many opportunities to participate and represent Collinson House in a wide range of activities.

The year kicked off with the House Swimming Carnival, where our participation, effort and support on the day could not be questioned. Despite our great efforts on the day we were unable to mount any sort of challenge in the pool, and finished in fourth spot. Deep down we couldn't wait to get back onto dry land to display our talents on the Athletics track!

The House Athletics Carnival showcased the power, speed and endurance of Collinson students, as boys from all year levels lit up the track with incredible runs and jumps, superior endurance and powerful throws. The support of the senior Collinson boys in their green outfits led the way in what was a dominant display in all disciplines across the track, resulting in a first place finish for the 'Green Machine'!

A successful Athletics Carnival was followed by a great Cross Country win. There were some great individual performances and a desire to push the limits, leaving nothing in the tank to gain the best result for Collinson. However, it was the sheer number of participants who completed the course that got the team across the line!

Shrove Tuesday kicked off our fundraising efforts for the year. The House Leaders had an early start, preparing and cooking pancakes for some very hungry boys. The efforts of the leaders and a number of other volunteers resulted in Collinson sneaking over the line by a few dollars, with our creative marketing and sales strategies being the key to our success! Other highlights included a great lunchtime donut stall, coin line donations and the collection of a huge number of Woolworths' Earn and Learn stickers on Collinson's behalf.

After a full year of carnivals, competitions and fundraising, Collinson was pipped at the line by Moroney House, who took home yet another House Cup. Congratulations to Mrs Marianne Marshall and Moroney on another successful year.

Thank you to our awesome Collinson staff for your support of the boys throughout the year. Thanks also to all our students of Collinson House. You are a pleasure to work with, and your enthusiasm and willingness to participate and support each other in house events is greatly appreciated. Finally, a huge thanks to our House Captain, Tibin Thampy, Vice-Captain, James Tighello and our Years 10 & 11 Captains, Dimitri Adamopoulos, Chris Beltran, Adrian Nadonza and ROUNG Chea for their leadership and support this year.

Collinson will be back bigger and better in 2018, as the 'Green Machine' aims to go one better!

Mr Nick Kearney
Head of Collinson House

"The House Athletics Carnival showcased the power, speed and endurance of Collinson students, as boys from all year levels lit up the track with incredible runs and jumps, superior endurance and powerful throws."

It is with great excitement and pride that I reflect on the 2017 efforts of Morone House. A team led by wonderful captains took charge from the first House Assembly and continued their leadership with great enthusiasm, accompanied by a unique group of Year 12s who worked tirelessly alongside their elected Captains. Our plan for the year was first and foremost to have fun and give everything a go. The House Cup was still firmly in our hands, and in true Morone House spirit we planned to make our best effort to retain it for the third consecutive year.

We welcomed Year 7 students into the Morone family, and it was obvious that their enthusiasm was infectious. Student participation at both the Swimming and Athletics Carnivals was outstanding. There were no events without a Morone competitor, and although we were not always first over the line, we could hold our heads high because we gave it our best. The 'RED ARMY' was clearly visible and audible as they cheered on Morone contestants.

During Terms One and Two, the Years 7 and 8 students were involved in lunch time Inter House Futsal Competitions. Morone entered two teams at each year level. The boys showed great skill and determination to outwit the other Houses during the games. One of the Year 7 teams made it to the Final, but were narrowly beaten, while both the Year 8 teams played off in the Grand Final. Congratulations, boys, on your efforts, and thanks for volunteering and giving up lunch times each week to represent Morone House.

Another major event was the House Cross Country Carnival, which saw high levels of Morone participation and great efforts at all year levels. We had some outstanding individual results, with many boys going on to participate in the ACC Cross Country Carnival.

During Term Three, there was a huge amount of preparation for Don Bosco's Oratory Week and Festival Day. The efforts of our leaders in planning the week's events were outstanding, as was the participation of Morone staff and students. Along with having fun, we went to great lengths to enlist sponsors for the Walkathon and collect 'Earn and Learn' stickers. The proceeds from both these collections were to be given to our brothers in Samoa. A huge thankyou to staff and students for your efforts in fundraising and all the events that took place during Don Bosco's Oratory Week.

As the year drew to a close, results were tallied for the all-important House Cup. We waited anxiously as the various shields were awarded, and it wasn't too long before the cheer went up for Morone! I would like to congratulate all the boys in Morone House for their efforts in winning the House Cup for 2017. My special thanks must go to the Morone Captains for their leadership throughout the year, as well as to the staff of Morone for your tireless volunteering and house spirit. You are the best!

I feel blessed to have been given the opportunity over the past three years to be House Leader of Morone. I feel certain that our great efforts will continue into the future. Thank you for your support of our great House!

Mrs Marianne Marshall
Head of Morone House

"Leading Moroney house has been a huge honour for me in the last 12 months. I could not be prouder of the way my fellow students have conducted themselves in events such as the Swimming Carnival, Athletics Carnival and Cross Country Carnival. I have had an amazing time working with Mrs Marshall, Adrian and other leaders. We have had an outstanding year and I hope for every success for the mighty Moroney House in coming years. Thank you and good luck to everyone!"

Ben Di Cioccio

Moroney House Captain

"There were no events without a Moroney competitor, and although we were not always first over the line, we could hold our heads high because we gave it our best."

2017 proved to be another great year for Savio House! Our boys showed great character by putting their hands up to represent Savio in a wide range of activities. From athletic pursuits to debating and fundraising, the students of Savio House always gave their best, and demonstrated why they wear the colour blue with pride! The strong culture of inclusiveness and perseverance within Savio House continues to grow, as all boys were encouraged to have a go this year. Our boys tried their best to ensure that Savio was always in a position to perform well in the House Shield Competition.

It was an extremely busy start to the year, with both the House Swimming and Athletics Carnivals held early in Term One. The Swimming Carnival showcased the enthusiasm of our students, with many dressing up, covering themselves in blue zinc and chanting from the side of the pool all day. All Savio competitors experienced great support from the other boys in our House, spurring many athletes on to some great performances in the pool. Participation levels were high as many boys made their way to the blocks to represent the Savio house. Scores were close all day, and there were a number of lead changes for the overall winner.

Unfortunately, we came up short, but the boys put on a convincing display to take out a well-earned second place. A similar level of enthusiasm was shown at the House Athletics Carnival, and there was great support for all Savio participants. Once again, participation rates were high, and as the day wore on Savio ascended the ranks. We managed to land another second place, making two second places at the end of Term One. A special mention must be made of our junior athletes, who put on a convincing display at both carnivals. It is great to know that the future of the Savio house is in safe hands!

However, as the year progressed, it seemed that the elusive House Shield victory was slipping away from us. Savio House fell out of the top two in the House Cross Country Carnival, and struggled to regain momentum. Having said this, House spirit remained high all year and, to their credit, the boys continued to put their hands up to participate in any event they could. Thank you to all Savio students for your commitment to our House efforts this year.

Many thanks must go to the 2017 Student Leaders of Savio House: Ashvin Adihetty, Hanel Sawa, Max Piccolo, Rodney Baselyous, Stephen Angeloudas and Damon Ollerenshaw. Their enthusiasm and desire to see the Savio boys succeed in all aspects of College life played a large part in the success the house has seen this year. It has been a pleasure to work with you this year, and I hope you will continue to be active members of Savio House in the future. A big thankyou must also go to all the staff who have helped out at the huge number of House events over the course of the year. We couldn't have achieved what we did without your support.

2017 Citizenship and Cultural Shield Winners (Moroney)

HOUSE CUP COMPETITION

'Proudly we sing our song, and faith filled we journey along' are the first lines of the College song. Each year it seems that the song becomes more a part of the fabric of our school. The boys clearly identify strongly with the culture of our College, and integral to that is the competition between Houses that runs all year and incorporates all aspects of College life.

At the end of our Year 12 Valedictory Assembly, results are shared with the school as a whole. The excitement as the winning houses are read out is palpable. There's no doubt that we are grateful for the efforts of all involved in House representation, as this competition encourages our boys to see our College as more than just an academic institution, but rather a school that prepares them well for life after they have left our corridors.

Nick Kearney became the new leader of Collinson House and a most valued member of the House Leader team. It wasn't long before Nick was driving the Collinson leaders to bigger and better things, as his desire for an improved Collinson result in 2017 was made known.

In defence of his colleagues, Peter Bermingham (Annecy), Marianne Marshall (Moroney) and Chris Ryan (Savio), they already had set the bar very high in getting the boys to work positively for good results in all the College shields.

Academic Shield

1. Collinson
2. Moroney
3. Savio
4. Annecy

Points are awarded to boys over the year for the quality of the academic work they submit to staff. The Academic Shield is awarded to the House which manages to achieve the most academic points for the year. Last year it was Moroney House who took the prize, but in 2017 Collinson House's improved efforts paid off, and they won the shield.

Citizenship Shield

1. Moroney
2. Collinson
3. Annecy
4. Savio

The Citizenship Shield is awarded to the House that encourages its students to outwardly support fundraising and charitable events during the year. Contributions to Caritas, St Vincent de Paul and The Red Cross are just some of the ways the boys did their part to make the world a better place. Moroney and Collinson Houses outstripped the others, with Moroney jumping from second in 2016 to first in 2017.

2017 House Cup Winners (Moroney)

2017 Sport and Academic Shield Winners (Collinson)

"In another outstanding year, Moroney House, under the guidance of Mrs Marianne Marshall, held the cup aloft."

Cultural Shield

1. Moroney
2. Collinson
3. Savio
4. Annecy

The Cultural Shield is awarded to the House that gains the most points for student participation in debating, public speaking and other cultural events on the College calendar. Well, Annecy were hard to beat in this area last year, but this year they took a spectacular tumble, while the steady Moroney House once again achieved top results.

Sport Shield

1. Collinson
2. Moroney
3. Savio,
4. Annecy

The Sport Shield is awarded to the House that performs best at our House Swimming, Athletics and Cross Country Carnivals. While it's great to have star athletes, the real winners are the teams who ensure that they maintain a high level of participation. Points are also awarded for positive cheering on of competitors at the various events. Collinson were too good across the board, their House Leaders' superb organisation skills helping them to win the Sport Shield.

2017 House Cup

1. Moroney
2. Collinson
3. Savio
4. Annecy

Finally, the House Cup is awarded to the House that has performed best across all four disciplines. In another outstanding year, Moroney House, under the guidance of Mrs Marianne Marshall, held the cup aloft. The difference between First and Second place was so close that calculations to determine the winner were made by our Assistant Principal of School Organisation, Mr Rob Mercer, who was able to finally separate the two houses. A wonderful effort from Mrs Marianne Marshall, and from Nick Kearney as the new Head of Collinson House. It is clear that 2018 will indeed be a tough fight for House Cup honours.

A heartfelt thankyou to all the House Leaders and House Captains who contribute so positively to the culture of our great school. It's clear that the boys benefit enormously from your work, and many are indeed challenged to go a little bit further to support each other, which can only be a positive thing.

"I would like to wish the Class of 2017 all the best for their future endeavours, knowing that they will find every success that they are destined for."

Finding the words to describe the unique legacy that the Year 12 cohort of 2017 has left on the College Community is proving to be more difficult than I first imagined. When I first met this group as young Year 7s on their trip to Camp Rumbug in 2012, I would never have realised just how connected I could become to a group of young men whom I can now call friends. The Class of 2017 has given me plenty of laughs (and the occasional headache) over the course of the year, but I wouldn't have it any other way! It has been a true honour to be their Year 12 Coordinator.

The Year 12 cohort of 2017 have been extremely fortunate to have some outstanding Oratory Mentors supporting them through this difficult year. I would personally like to thank Mrs Nadia Knight, Mr Peter Bermingham, Mr Brendan Douglas, Mr Damien McAuliffe, Ms Irene Apostolopoulos and Mr Paul Azar for all the help they have given to this exceptional group of young men. This started in our first week of the 2017 academic year, when we all supervised the Class of 2017 on their Year 12 Retreat at Daylesford. I would like to think that the boys discovered some things about themselves that they did not know before their retreat, and came back from this spiritual experience feeling revitalised for the year ahead.

The Class of 2017 shocked us with their sophisticated glamour at their Year 12 Formal this year. It is hard to say what will go down as more memorable, from the dance moves of Josh Chhen, to the earth-moving attire of Kylen Puveendran and George Koltsidas. There were many special moments shared, but perhaps the most memorable was the prestigious award of 'Best Dressed Teacher' going to Mr Thomas Dexter, finally removing the mantle from Mr Mark Wang!

A special thankyou needs to go to all the Year 12 boys who were Student Leaders this year. They have successfully juggled their personal lives and academic studies, and have given up their time for the College in their respective roles. The biggest thankyou goes to our two College Vice-Captains, Lachlan Magee and Peter Pamouktsis, and to our College Captain of 2017, Stefano Mascaro. They have been my right hand men all year, and have done everything the College has asked of them.

I would like to wish the Class of 2017 all the best for their future endeavours, knowing that they will find every success that they are destined for. I hope that each of you realises the unique individuals that you are. The most satisfying aspect of being your Year Level Coordinator has been the opportunity to get to know you all individually, and to share this special year together. I encourage you all to continue to be true to yourselves and not budge on your morals. Thank you for all the laughs that you have given me this year, (in between shouting at you to get out of the corridor!) and know that, even though you are graduating from Salesian College this year, the door will always be open.

All the best to the Class of 2017!

"I would like to extend my congratulations to the Year 11s for the way in which they rose to the challenges of this year."

2017 was a whirlwind of a year for our Year 11 students at Salesian College. It has been wonderful to see the boys grow and mature as they tackled the demands of VCE and VCAL. The year was filled with activities and the usual business of school life, with students immersing themselves in all that came their way.

Term One was off to a flying start with the Swimming and Athletics Carnivals. It was pleasing to see the boys participate with enthusiasm and pride in their houses. This theme continued throughout the year as boys participated in social justice activities, raising awareness and much needed funds for St Vincent de Paul and the Salesian Missions in Samoa. In between, we celebrated the 60th Anniversary of the College.

It was fantastic to see the Year 11s take up the challenges of their VCE and VCAL studies. Study timetables, SACs and folios were often the subject of discussion as the boys wove their way through the academic year, striving to achieve their best.

The Year 11 Retreat held in Term Two addressed the very important topic of "Being a Man". The boys listened to and discussed the issues of violence, respect, 'stepping up' and what it means to be a man in the year 2017. We then continued with this theme throughout Term Two in the Oratory Program.

One of the highlights of the year was Don Bosco's Oratory Week. The week culminated in the unveiling of the Don Bosco Statue, and the celebration of 60 years of this wonderful community. The Year 11s set themselves the challenge to raise over $2000 for the Salesian Missions by asking for sponsors for the Walkathon. The week concluded with Salesian Festival Day and, despite the weather, we enjoyed the activities on offer.

Another highlight of the year was the production 'Mother Courage and her Children'. The talents of the Year 11s came to the fore. In conjunction with Sacred Heart they worked hard to put together a wonderful show. A particular mention must be made of Billy Drakopoulos, who composed the music for the production.

As the year draws to a close, I would like to personally thank my Year 11 Oratory team, Mr Noel McGarry, Ms Phina Tran, Miss Inderpreet Gill, Mr Neil Carter, Mr Chris Pye, Miss Eliza Weinberg, Miss Monique Capomolla and Mr Tim Cox, for their support and contributions this year. Congratulations to the students who were chosen by their peers to lead them next year.

As we move into 2018, I would like to extend my congratulations to the Year 11s for the way in which they rose to the challenges of this year. I look forward to working with them all in 2018 as they tackle their final year of formal schooling in Year 12.

YEAR 10

“An integral part of Year 10 is giving consideration to future possibilities beyond school.”

Year 10 is a short academic year, but a very important one. In Year 10 boys leave behind the familiarity of the Mannix campus and begin to lay the foundations for successful academic outcomes. They mature in their outlook, and begin to develop the skills which will hold them in good stead for the next two years and into the future. This year I met for the first time the 118 boys who have begun this important journey.

An integral part of Year 10 is giving consideration to future possibilities beyond school. The Year 10 boys spent an extensive amount of time investigating their attributes and skills, and considering careers for which they would be suited. A visit to the Careers Expo at Caulfield Racecourse in Term Two was an opportunity to learn more about a range of careers, and provided fodder for discussion once we returned to school.

Partnerships with our sister school, Sacred Heart Girls' College, also came to the forefront in Year 10. This year saw the launch of the very first Respectful Relationships Forum, which involved Year 10s from both schools. This event was almost entirely student driven and run, and the leaders from both schools worked together to ensure that the day was a success. Both the boys and girls experienced the wisdom of a range of speakers, as well as participating in a variety of workshops. However, the highlight of their day was most certainly the opportunity to socialise with one another.

These relationships were further developed in the Year 10 Dance Program, one of the highlights on the social calendar. Although they would never admit it, the boys were quite nervous before their first formal dance lesson, and quite a bit of deodorant was made use of prior to their lessons. Having said that, the girls were equally nervous, and their Coordinator also remarked on the amount of time they spent preening before the lesson. Neither side should have worried, however, as they all launched into the dance steps easily, and were able to share a laugh at their mistakes. When it came to the Dance

Finale, this year held at Salesian College, the boys behaved like gentlemen. Once the informal dancing commenced, the boys were able to show off their more natural dance moves. In spite of some moments of shyness, a fun night was had by all.

As Year 10 quickly comes to an end, I would personally like to thank the Year 10 team who have guided the boys through the year, and assisted them (and myself) to achieve their best. Thank you to Mrs Sarah Roberts, Mr Ray Sestito, Ms Sarah Martin, Mr Steven Loonstra, and Ms Deborah Rabot. Your work this year with the boys has been invaluable.

Finally, I would like to thank the Year 10 boys for making my year such an enjoyable one. I consider myself lucky to be your Coordinator, and look forward to working with you next year. All the best for your continued success in Year 11!

YEAR 9

"The vast majority of the cohort have made consistent and honest efforts in their studies this year, whilst relishing all the experiential learning Mannix threw their way."

As we blazed forward into 2017 and a new school year, the Year 9 boys were determined and eager to throw everything they had at the Mannix Campus. 184 students looked to write their own success stories. We laughed, cried, but, most importantly, built everlasting connections along the way. I would like to acknowledge the genuine and almost disarming friendliness of the year level, and the friendships they built with their teachers. They were indeed fond of a bit of banter, 'WORD!'

The vast majority of the cohort have made consistent and honest efforts in their studies this year, whilst relishing all the experiential learning Mannix threw their way. Term One was jam-packed with extra-curricular activity opportunities, the highlight of which was Year 9 Camp in Week Six. Our Year 9s braved extreme conditions (just), and enjoyed activities such as hiking, surfing, canoeing and even drop toileting! Despite the lack of phone towers and Wi-Fi facilities, the boys worked hard, even when their reserves had nearly expired! Terms Two, Three and Four saw the boys engrossed in additional opportunities such as the three days of City Experience and Community Service, the 10th Annual Great Transport Challenge Race, bike rides into the city, the 1000 steps, an overnight sailing trip during the holidays, and who could forget the 'THREE-peat'? Our Year 9 ACC Football Team, under the guidance of myself and our water boy, Mr Campisano, saw the flag brought home for the 3rd year running. Can we be 'FOURtunate' enough to make it again next year?

New syllabuses were written for innovative, challenging and engaging electives which strived to enrich the capacity of our students to participate more fully in the modern educational world of 2017. Through the learning of elective subjects such as Crime and Punishment, Civics and the Law, Salesian's Greatest Mathematician and Robotics (to name a few), the boys were provided with the best possible contemporary pedagogical practices to cultivate their talents.

A shout-out to our very talented 14 Class Captains and Vice-Captains, who were often seen labouring away each lunchtime in our very own student-run Canteen! Mannix Campus would have been lost without the direction of each of these leaders, who possessed incomparable skill, aptitude and determination. Our captains assisted in fundraising, with proceeds in excess of $6,100 from canteen sales, which went to our brothers and sisters in Samoa. A phenomenal achievement and a very worthy contribution to our wider Salesian community.

Finally, I would like to personally thank the incredibly dependable and always animated Year 9 Team for all their support and contributions to the Mannix Campus in 2017. The staff have devoted their lunchtimes to 2 v 2 Basketball Competitions, extra classes and an immeasurable amount of banter with the boys (including 'the Bachelor' chats!). Thanks to Ms Tara Kimstra (Year 9 Curriculum Coordinator), Mr Daniel Campisano, Mr Lachlan Dwyer, Miss Melissa Fernando, Mr Nick Filippis, Mr Christopher Walsh, Ms Kathryn Zwalf and Miss Grace Hattingh.

To the lads, you are the reason the Mannix campus has been such a special place for education this year. Treasure the memories made, take them with you and use them as you move through your journey at Salesian College. Best wishes for 2018!

What a year it has been with 9E! It has been an absolute pleasure to oversee this group of fine young gentlemen. The boys may return to Bosco Campus slightly taller, with deeper voices and more facial hair than they arrived with, but also hopefully with a greater sense of independence, an appreciation of hard work and a love of quality banter. 2017 has been a fun filled and energetic year for 9G. Together we have been able to share many challenges and experiences, and come through it all with smiles and laughter. I am proud of all that 9G has achieved, and how they have grown this year.

Well done 9G, and good luck for the future.

YEAR 8

“As Year Level Coordinator, I'd like to congratulate the boys on the way they have interacted with each other and with staff. Most of you do the right thing all the time, and do so with smiles on your faces, and with respect and care for those around you.”

I was lucky to inherit a Year Level that had the benefit of Mr Steve Beckham's organisation for the first half of the year. Given I had such big shoes to fill, I was a little nervous about taking on the role, but a great group of Year 8 students and the support of a dedicated set of teachers has allowed us to finish the year on a good note.

The first half of the year (and Term One in particular) is a busy time for the boys, and there is always a lot to organise and a number of new teachers for them to get to know. We had heard good things when these boys were in Year 7, and their transition into Year 8 went extremely well. Given Term One has lots of events, including the Swimming and Athletics Carnivals, the boys were able to keep up with their academic workload and complete their assessments.

A number of special highlights in Year 8 are the Medieval Day and Environmental Day, Father/Son Evening, Don Bosco's Oratory Week and the Retreat at Phillip Island.

Medieval Day was filled with interesting activities. The boys learnt about the lifestyle of the time, and experienced many of the skills, games and customs that were a part of life for people in medieval society. It was a very interesting and informative day, and the boys didn't miss the opportunity to practise some medieval combat. Environmental Day continued Experiential Week with a number of guest speakers, who discussed environmental awareness. The boys did a great job of planting and rehabilitating the garden beds at the Adrian St entrance to Mannix Campus.

The Father/Son Evening was another great night, and is one of those rare opportunities for dads and their boys to take some time out to have a real conversation with each other. The night is all about dads and their sons playing together, having a chat about the role they play in each other's lives, and then sharing some special memories. With all the busyness in our lives, the chance to share an evening together without distractions made it a memorable occasion, and the feedback from all who attended was extremely positive.

For most boys the Phillip Island Retreat is the highlight of Year 8, a chance to spend time with their friends and challenge themselves in a range of outdoor activities. We had some pretty poor weather, particularly in the first half of the week, but it was great to experience the resilience of the boys, who complained little and continued having fun outside. We also had the chance to learn some lessons from Don Bosco's life as part of the retreat, and hopefully parents enjoyed reading their sons' letters as much as the boys enjoyed receiving letters from their parents and guardians.

Don Bosco's Oratory Week was a great way to finish Term Three, as we celebrated with food, activities and guest speaker presentations that provided the boys with the opportunity to better understand a range of social and health issues.

As Year Level Coordinator, I'd like to congratulate the boys on the way they have interacted with each other and with staff. Most of you do the right thing all the time, and do so with smiles on your faces, and with respect and care for those around you. Whilst we drive the boys to achieve academically, we have the chance through our Oratory classes to develop boys who are empathetic and community-minded, and who work towards a better understanding and tolerance of each other. This has been achieved through valuable programs such as Respectful Relationships, and the presentation on Social Labelling and Judgement by Project Rockit. Hopefully this contributes to building tolerant and respectful boys who have a sense of justice and are prepared to speak up when they see something unacceptable.

On behalf of all Year 8s, I'd like to thank all the teachers who have taught and encouraged the boys to give of their best, in particular the Orators, Miss Elissa Galante (8A), Miss Alicia Richardson (8B), Miss Melina Barcellona (8C), Mr Chris Ryan (8D), Ms Rosa Salemm (8E), Miss Alexandra Tsiavis (8G) and Mrs Ivana Ryan (8H). Thank you so very much.

I look forward to following the development of these boys, and hope they have an enjoyable and productive time at our Mannix campus in 2018.

YEAR 7

“Throughout the year, I have been most impressed with the courage and willingness of the boys to keep working hard, and their ability to overcome difficult situations.”

It is hard to believe that 12 months have passed since the 2017 Year 7 cohort gathered in the College Hall for their Orientation Evening as Grade 6 students. It would feel like yesterday for these boys. However, so many positive things have taken place in this relatively short space of time.

During the early part of the year, they travelled to Foster for Year 7 Camp. I remember many nervous boys getting onto the bus and leaving their Mums and Dads. However, nearly all came back feeling more confident in having forged new friendships. Further, they competed with great passion and skill in the House Swimming and Athletics Carnivals, competing hard for their respective Houses. In the academic field, boys adapted exceptionally well to the rigours of life as secondary school students. Classrooms, in the main, were places of engagement and focus. It was pleasing to see.

As the year progressed, the boys have had many opportunities to explore their talents academically, musically, artistically, or on the sports field. They have also grown enormously socially, emotionally, spiritually and, of course, physically. Whilst there have been bumps along the way, we must remember that this is a feature of all meaningful journeys. Throughout the year, I have been most impressed with the courage and willingness of the boys to keep working hard, and their ability to overcome difficult situations. This will no doubt hold them in good stead for the rest of their time here at Salesian College and beyond.

I would like to thank all of the Year 7 teachers for 2017. Particularly, I would like to acknowledge the fantastic Oratory teachers, Miss Christina Romano, Mr Andrew Schillaci, Mr Mikeal Bloom, Mrs Marianne Marshall, Mr Ken Verbyla, Ms Rozanne Misso and Mrs Malwina Dwyer for all their hard work and dedication in ensuring that the boys were cared for throughout the year.

In addition, I would like to thank the boys and their parents for their willingness to embrace the College's ethos and the many great things on offer. There haven't been many dull moments, and I hope you have all enjoyed the start of your journey as much as I have.

Finally, I would like to leave you with one of my favourite quotes: “You miss 100% of the shots you don't take”. The message in this? Keep being involved in College life, and strive to grow and develop. Indeed, when students do this, Salesian College becomes a vibrant and enlivened place.

Thanks for a great year, boys, and good luck with the rest of your time at Salesian!

Mr
Chris Hayes

When I think back to the start of 2017, I could not have imagined how much all of the boys in 7C would develop over their first year at Salesian College. They have all made so much progress intellectually, physically, emotionally, socially and spiritually. Boys, it has been a great pleasure watching you all make so much progress this year, and I wish you all the very best for your journey through Year 8.

It was certainly an enjoyable experience to mentor 7D during 2017! What started as a quiet, unassuming group soon turned into a class full of characters and a range of different personalities. It has been a pleasure to guide and mentor this group of students, who were also kind enough to occasionally laugh at my puns. Wishing you all the best in Year 8.

7E are a fantastic group of young men, who are fun to be with. A highlight of this year has been their spontaneous singing of 'Happy Birthday' to each of their class mates. Most boys have been in an ACC Team, and have embraced all aspects of secondary school life. They have been a joy to be with, and I wish them all the best for Year 8.

7F were eager to learn from Day One, and immersed themselves in a new range of subjects and activities that were very different from their primary school experience. 7F matured noticeably in the second half of this year, as they became familiar with secondary school life. Best of luck to all of you with your journey through Years 8 to 12. It has been great to have you all in my Oratory class.

In 2017 the winds of change swept 7G into Salesian College in a flurry of excitement and trepidation. We had many new teachers and experiences such as Whole School Assemblies, Retreat and Athletics Carnivals. We walked, we talked, we sang and sometimes we even shed a tear or two. It has been an interesting introduction to our Salesian journey, for each of us slightly different, but never dull.

It has been a blessing being the Oratory teacher of 7H. This vibrant class of energetic, quirky and altruistic individuals has journeyed together in their challenging first year of secondary education. In our three subjects, we have spent considerable time together, and have learned many lessons, grown in knowledge and in height, and shared a lot of laughs, mainly at me. Thank you for a humorous year, 7H. I wish you the best of luck in Year 8!

Alex Nanfra

Year 12 Product Design and Technology

Year 12 Product Design and Technology student Alex Nanfra completed a well-designed and constructed outdoor dining table that also works as a bar table if the top is removed and the table base is rotated. In his role as the designer, Alex had to constantly communicate with his client, his father. He completed a complex portfolio of work that included research into types of materials, construction methods, material testing and creative design sketches. Alex's selection of CAD drawings was very detailed, with measurements and annotations that gave his client a wide range of table options to choose from.

During production, Alex demonstrated advanced skills when using a variety of technical power and hand tools. Alex had high expectations of himself during his project, and maintained a positive attitude towards advice, acting on it to further improve the standard of his work.
